BUSH FIRES DEVASTATING PRAIRIE NORTHLAND

Dissolution Sets British Election Machinery Going

Two Thousand Copies of King's Proclamation Are Issued to Mayors and Sheriffs Throughout Country for Public Exhibition—New Parliament to Assemble June 25

Three-Cornered Contests Will Be Feature of Battle

LONDON, May 10.—The London Gazette tonight published the King's proclamation dissolving the British Parliament which, rather exceptionally, has lasted within a few months of its full statutory term of five years. The proclamation calls on the new Parliament to assemble at Westminster on June 25. The King's proclamation also releases all the machinery for holding the new general elections. May 30, and tonight more than 2,000 large-sized copies of it were issued to Lord Mayors, Mayors and sheriffs throughout the country for public exhibition.

The concluding ceremonies in Parliament were gone through very quickly today in the presence of a small attendance of members. Most of the others had already scattered to their constituencies to begin in earnest their election campaigns.

An air of cheerfulness prevailed at the closing scenes, while members were bidding each other good-bye and wondering whether they would meet again in the new Parliament. But public curiosity was not great enough to bring more than a small audience in either House.

SPECIAL READ BY PROXY

The speech dissolving Parliament was delivered by a proxy for King George, who was well enough, however, to sign the proclamation dissolving Parliament at a meeting of the Privy Council at Craigwell House. Lord Hailsham, the Lord Chancellor, read the King's speech before the assembled members of the House of Commons and the House of Lords in the chambers of the House of Lords.

All eyes of London automatically turn tonight to the general elections campaigns and its hazards and struggles. The King's proclamation today inaugurated an electoral battle which will conclude on May 30.

With the substantial increase in the number of candidates by the Conservative and Labor parties, and the great increase in Liberal candidates, the general election will see a remarkable number of three-cornered contests. Prospects of the party leaders and of the ministers in Premier Stanley Baldwin's Government are the subject of much political comment.

UNEMPLOYMENT DEPLORED

The King's speech listed accomplishments of the present Government, and then deplored existing unemployment.

"The negotiations for my participation in multi-lateral treaty for the renunciation of war as a form proposed by the Government of the United States were successfully concluded, March 2, last, when my ratification was duly deposited.

TWO ISLAND AUTHORITIES PASS MOTION

Meeting Is Held at Courtenay by Comox District Bodies Regarding Campbell River Development

ANXIOUS ABOUT POWER RESERVE

(Colonist Correspondent)

COURTENAY, May 10.—A special meeting representative of the Courtenay and Cumberland Councils, and of the Courtenay-Comox and Cumberland Boards of Trade was held here this afternoon to discuss the Campbell River power development, in view of the hearing by the Water Board of applications for its allotment, set for next week.

After discussion, a resolution was unanimously passed asking the Government to protect the interests of this district in granting a franchise to the Campbell River power to any corporation.

Telegrams were read from the Canadian Crown Willamette Company, and from President W. G. Murrin, on behalf of the B.C. Electric Railway Company, setting out their plans if their applications were accorded approval.

Mr. George Rhizon, of Vancouver, representing the Canadian Utilities Company, in co-operation with the Crown Willamette Company, was present, and said that the Crown Willamette if it secured the franchise, within five years would expand its proposed pulp business into such dimensions that within the period it would require all the available power of the Campbell River.

Navy Airman Sets Record For Altitude

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Official announcement that Lieut. Apollo Soucek, of the Navy, had approached the sun nearer than has any other mortal, was made today by the National Aeronautical Association.

The flyer reached a true altitude of 39,140 feet in his little cream colored biplane over the naval air station on Wednesday. This was determined today at the bureau of standards, where a barograph carried in the plane was examined.

The National Aeronautical Association recognized the mark as a new world's altitude record.

Blast Kills Three

HANOVER, Mass., May 10.—Three workmen were killed and more than a score injured by a series of explosions in the plant of the National Fireworks Company here this afternoon. The plant, said to be one of the largest of its kind in the East, was completely wrecked.

MIXING AT VANCOUVER SUGGESTED

Evidence at Vancouver Probe Indicates Juggling of Shipments in Order to Maintain Standard

CHAIRMAN SEVERE IN HIS COMMENT

Commission Seeks to Place Responsibility for Guarding Interest of Owners of Grain

VANCOUVER, May 10.—Has mixing reached the stage on Canadian Pacific Railway terminals that it has on the public terminals? That was the suggestion forcefully questioned by members of the Saskatchewan Royal Grain Commission, today, to railway witnesses.

According to the law and practice, grain is supposed to go out of a public terminal precisely as it comes in. They are merely warehouses, incidentally. Mixing for profit is illegal in a private, but not in a public house. But C. P. R. Bins, an inspector here, said he occasionally mixed for profit, and the streams had been forced to shut the grain off from certain bins in a public terminal, because it was not running up to the grade. He had never rejected a cargo but had rejected small parts.

One commissioner wanted to know why had happened to the grain that of the rejected bins. The witness said it was because into a bin holding the grade he thought it should be, was put grain of a grade lower, and some one would be sore.

Chief Justice J. T. Brown, chairman, became rather severe in his comments on the witness remarks that "If I find the cargoes at the terminals of the grade and below the average of the grade coming in, I would not be blame, would not even notify my superior."

CHAIRMAN OBJECTS

"But you should do just that," responded the chairman, and let him take the responsibility for such a practice.

There was further searching on the part of the commission as to just who was responsible in this harbor for protecting the interests of the shippers of grain, for placed into the ship. The chairman, after hearing considerable evidence, remarked about the elaborate and costly system in Winnipeg, intended to protect the producers' grain from the moment it gets into the elevator, all the way until it was run into ships, and there seemed to be a break in those precautions.

VICTORIA BAND WELL RECEIVED

FIFTH B.C. COAST BRIGADE, UNDER LIEUT. PHILLIPS, WINS SECOND PLACE

Princess Adelaide Takes 155 Victorians Through Fog to Bellingham Festival

The 5th B.C. Coast Brigade Canadian Artillery Band, in charge of Capt. B. R. Bowden, Sergeant-Major Hatcher and Sergeant Rodger, won second prize in the Bellingham Tulip Festival parade yesterday. First prize in the band section went to the Black Diamond Band.

In charge of Pipe-Major Alexander Wallace and Mr. Cecil French, the Victoria Boys' Pipe Band made a good showing at the festivities, providing music at various street functions and dancing at the Masonic hall. Leaving here at 8.30 o'clock in the morning, the Victorians were disappointed when fog was sighted within half an hour. At reduced speed the Princess Adelaide made for Port Townsend, where the bandsmen engulfed in the blanketing vapor. Shortly before noon she was have-to off Iceberg Point, now and then giving a blast on her whistle to sight some point of the invisible land. It was only occasionally that lifted up the spirits of those aboard.

Montreal Visitor To Speak Here Today

Mr. J. Howard T. Falk, director, Montreal Council of Social Agencies, will be the luncheon speaker today, at 12.30, in Spencer's private dining-room, under the auspices of the Social Service League. Mr. Falk has been in Vancouver for the last few weeks, and is making a survey in the interests of social work.

British Labor Party Flouts Policy of Super-Generosity In Settlement of War Debts

DONCASTER, England, May 10.—The Labor party is apparently no more amenable to the generosity policy than are the reported from the Paris experts' conference than are the Conservatives. Ramsay MacDonald, former Labor Premier and leader of the party, addressing a meeting here today, said:

Territory Covers Half of Europe

"The other day in Paris, a proposal was made that we again show our special good will on the matter of reparations and that more burdens be placed on our shoulders.

"I am sorry to say that the arrangements made heretofore regarding the reparations have not yielded the good fruit expected.

"As far as the Labor party is concerned, we are going to take no more burdens on our shoulders, unless we get equivalent guarantees that the nations which said they could not accept less contributions from our old enemies, prove their poverty by spending less upon armaments.

"The nation is not going to continue its policy of super-generosity, which has characterized it hitherto."

MR. I. D. WILGRESS

The Canadian Government Trade Commissioner to Germany, who is now representing the interest of Canada, is a graduate of McGill University and entered the Commercial Intelligence Service in 1914. His first appointment was as trade commissioner for Russia, where he was in charge of an office at Omsk and later at Vladivostok. Prior to the opening of the present office in Hamburg in 1922, Mr. Wilgress was engaged in special duties in London. In addition to Germany his territory includes Czechoslovakia, Austria, Poland and Scandinavian countries—Esthonia, Latvia, Finland, Lithuania and former Russia. Mr. Wilgress will begin his tour of Canada in Victoria on May 14. Firms wishing to interview him can arrange appointments through the local office of the Canadian Manufacturers Association, 1-9 Pemberton Building.

HOSPITAL DAY APPEAL MADE BY MINISTER

Annual Receptions at Public Hospitals Should Be Appreciated, Says Hon. S. L. Howe

INSTITUTION IS INDISPENSABLE

Hon. B. L. Howe Provincial Secretary, under whose department the administration of hospitals falls in this province, has taken advantage of the fact that Hospital Day is being observed this week-end to call the attention of the public to the importance of the work that the institutions charged with the care of the sick are playing in the social life of the communities.

"The minister takes a deep interest in the work of hospitals, and in a message which he authorizes to be given publicity over his signature he makes a fervent appeal for the sympathetic support of these institutions and the lending of all the assistance possible to the noble work that is being accomplished through them.

Mr. Howe's message is as follows:

"In the past few days Hospital

OVER $45,000 IS VOTED FOR OGDEN POINT

British Columbia Appropriation Includes $124,500 for Dredging First Narrows at Vancouver

IMPROVEMENTS FOR PROVINCE DETAILED

Ontario Gets Largest Total for Construction — Vote Is $2,633,300 With a String Attached

OTTAWA, May 12.—The House of Commons buckled down to business today and passed appropriations amounting to $7,500,820. Appropriations for the Department of Public Works were under consideration and majority votes dealt with harbor and river improvements in various provinces.

The largest total for this work covered construction in Ontario. It amounted to $2,633,300, and approval was given on the understanding that Ontario members who were not present would be given an opportunity to discuss any item should they desire.

The Quebec appropriation for harbors and rivers amounted to $1,626,870. A vote of $73,000 for Manitoba was put through and the amount of $132,890 for harbors and rivers in Saskatchewan and Alberta was also approved.

The British Columbia appropriations of $1,057,300 passed with little discussion. A large vote of $1,750,000 for dredging in various parts of the Dominion was approved.

The British Columbia vote passed included $124,500 for dredging First Narrows, Vancouver; $48,000 for improvements at Ogden Point piers, Victoria; $65,000 for repairs and improvements generally in harbors and rivers.

VOTES DETAILED

The remaining votes included $12,000 for wharf at Prospect harbor, $7,900 for a hard at Mirror Lake, $8,500 for wharf replacement at Needles, $35,000 for protection work and dyking at Nicholson Island, $6,300 for improvements to Okanagan Central dam, $7,300 for Trail extensions at Port Alberni, $16,000 for Trails at Prince Rupert, $8,000 for wharf extension at Roberts Creek, $7,200 at Port Hardy, $8,000 for foreshore protection work, Stanley Park, $7,000 for wharf at Port Simpson Airway Station, Vancouver, $8,100 repairs to wharves at Quadra Island, William Head, wharf construction at Galiano, $2,600, wharf at Gonzales, $9,000 wharf repairs at Belle Chuchua, $1,000 for float and breakwater at Campbell River, $7,200, wharf construction at Beacon, $7,400 dredging Courtenay River, $17,200 dredging Trail, at Digby Island $5,700, dredging Fraser River North Arm, $130,000, operation of snag boat, Fraser River lowers, $30,000, $6,400 for wharf at Vancouver.

OBJECTION RAISED

A debate arose when J. J. Brady Conservative, Bikeena, complained that Northern British Columbia was being neglected in the way of expenditures of this nature. He urged that consideration be given to building several wharves in Francois Lake. He charged that the government inspector, in making his survey in that region, had been influenced by the Liberal organizer. He also stated that the necessary work on the port of Stewart be given attention.

Mr. Elliott declared that the engineers of his department were charged with great responsibility but he believed they were making an honest effort to do what was fair and proper in the interests of the country.

GERMANS ASK REMOVAL OF RAILWAY LIEN

Point Made as One of Two Conditions Under Which She Will Accept United States Proposal

EXPERTS AWAIT BERLIN'S REPLY

PARIS, May 10.—The third month of work by the reparations conference is drawing to its close with the Allied experts waiting on the German delegation for a specific declaration of the German position regarding the proposal of Chairman Owen D. Young for a plan of annuities to settle the German reparations problem. Until that declaration is forthcoming, the experts and Dawes committee is practically deadlocked.

Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, chief of the German delegation, has until Tuesday, May 14, to make known in writing just what are the conditions under which he will accept the annuities. Discussions in private have practically eliminated ten of the twelve conditions which Dr. Schacht had previously mentioned to Mr. Young.

The two which remain however are of major importance, and upon their manner of presentation depends the subsequent development of the committee's work.

It is understood that Dr Schacht will work with Sir Josiah Stamp, chief British delegate, tomorrow and Monday. The result of their efforts will probably be presented to the delegates of the creditor nations Tuesday.

The two remaining conditions are briefly stated.

First, the demand by the German experts that the committee's report to the various governments recommend that the final agreement comprise the understanding that Germany may demand revision of the agreement by another international conference of experts whenever the economic and financial situation of the Reich should prove unfavorable to continued payments under the new plan.

Second, the abandonment by the Allies of the lien on German railways and industries to the amount of 16,000,000,000 marks as guarantee for the payment of annuities, which would be replaced by simple undertaking on the part of the German Government.

Rangers Helpless As Flames Sweep Forest Reserves

Timber Tracts of Saskatchewan and Mining Settlements of Manitoba Menaced by Score of Blazes That Dry Weather and Wind Have Driven Beyond Control—Rain Only Hope

Crackling of Fire Can Be Heard for Miles Is Report

WINNIPEG, May 10.—Devastating columns of fire scattered throughout Northern Manitoba and Saskatchewan, tonight were sweeping through large acreage of timberland, unabated and fanned by a stiff breeze that made fire fighting impossible. Vachusky estimated as to number, it was believed that more than a score of separate blazes were beyond control in the Northland. Reports stated the ferocity of the flames was accentuated by absence of rainfall, which is badly needed in the crisis.

Wending its way steadily northward from the Flin Flon mines in Northern Manitoba, a five-mile-wide forest fire tonight was destroying everything in its path, while fully a dozen other flaming assaults were leveling far more valuable property to the east of the mines.

The conflagration in Saskatchewan, the most serious being in Pasquia and Porcupine forest reserves, eighty miles east of Prince Albert, were quickly consuming valuable stands of timber today. Only a considerable rainfall will relieve the situation in that district, it was believed, raining dry weather conditions being assumed the heroic efforts of fire fighters.

Red glows, seen on the night sky in the scrub-growth portions of Northern Manitoba, known as the barrens, brought hold a vivid tale of the extent of the damage to forest tracts. The pall of smoke which enveloped the country early this evening hinted of widespread destruction, and fire rangers and fire efforts have proved entirely unavailing against the attack of the grim foe. Send claim the cracking of flames can be heard for miles.

While fire moved northward towards the mining settlement of Flin Flon, Lake, other sparsely-settled communities were menaced as well. Blazes raged at Mile 69, and at Mandy mine, the extent of which by neither rage has been reported. A fire which wrought much destruction of Mile 83, through two lines, stacks and small buildings of the Ross Navigation Company were leveled.

Labor Chief Adds to Merriment of British Election Campaign

DURHAM England, May 10 (C.P. Cable).—If the present Government is returned to Downing Street, they will straightness out into their political pajamas and stay in there for the next five years," said Rt Hon Ramsay MacDonald, Labor leader, in opening his event campaign in the Bishop Auckland division of Durham this evening. He is leaving from Inverness to Bristol and stopped off in the constituency where he is seeking election to the House.

Referring to the economic restoration, Mr MacDonald said the country was presented with Stanley Baldwin and his likeable face and exhausting stream of salve first.

"Safety first is all right for the maimed, the halt and the blind, but in a country like this facing a future full of troubles and problems, you want something more than a drawn heart, loitering and feeble," he declared.

GOVERNMENTS IN CONFLICT

FEDERAL AND PROVINCIAL AUTHORITIES HURLING RECRIMINATIONS

Question of Jurisdiction Over Man Convicted of Murder Cause of All the Trouble

EDMONTON, May 10.—While Federal and Provincial authorities are busy hurling recriminations at each other, George E. Jackson slayer of Mrs Rose Prendergast, Waskatenau, Alberta, sixteen months ago, sits in one of the two little cells in the Saskatchewan jail, closely guarded against escape Jackson, whom the Edmonton prominent apparently has decided is insane, was brought from Prince Albert, Sask. Provincial penitentiary by a guard and literally "dumped" on the doorstep of Port Saskatchewan jail with no one to take him in charge. The murderer promptly dashed for liberty but was captured seven minutes and he returned to custody.

Meanwhile Federal and Provincial authorities are squabbling over who should take the responsibility for Jackson's future detention. Hon J. F. Lymburn, Attorney-General of Alberta, stated a thorough investigation would be made, but that in the meantime the convicted slayer would be taken care of The Provincial Government, nevertheless, he said, is not "admitting the rights of the Federal Government to deal with this man on the province in this peremptory fashion."

OTTAWA May 10 Hon Ernest Lapointe Minister of Justice, declared tonight he intended on a dispatch from Edmonton, reporting that George Edmond Jackson convicted murderer, had been allowed to escape at large as a "dangerous penitentiary guard While Mr Lapointe refused to make any comment whatsoever, it is possible that when the House opens again on Monday, some statement may be made in the matter by the Government.

GAS TANK EXPLODES

SYRACUSE, N.Y. May 10 James Carlisle, thirty-five, employee in the Solvay Process Company a subsidiary of the Allied Chemical & Dye Corporation, died in hospital shortly after noon today from the effects of chlorine gas which flooded the Solvay district after explosion of a nine thousand gallon tank A fellow employee Charles Ney, thirty-nine, was in a serious condition from the same cause.

New Canadian Financing of Small Volume

TORONTO, May 10.—Marketing conditions were reflected in the small volume of new Canadian Financing offered on the market during the month of April, the total for that month being $14,649,181, according to The Monetary Times' estimate. This total is composed of $6,000,000 of provincial financing and $2,828,181 of municipal financing and $5,565,000 of corporation financing. The April total shows a considerable decline in comparison with the previous month, amounting to $49,912,307, and is also lower than last year's total of $15,816,000.

Despite the lower total for April, the total for the first four months of the current year is higher than for the corresponding period of last year, this year's total standing at $64,719,447 as against $119,615,274 last year and with $150,124,000 during the first four months of 1927.

Bank Manager Injured When Motor Upsets

EDMONTON, May 10.—W. F. Elliott, manager of the Bank of Montreal branch at Leduc, was injured in an accident when his automobile was overturned early on Friday morning. While there were no witnesses of the accident, the theory advanced is that as he was returning from a visit to Edmonton the car overturned into the deep ditch. As he endeavored to bring it back on the road the steering gear broke. His head was crushed as the car overturned.

Plans for Payment Of Reparations to Be Laid on Table

OTTAWA, May 10.—Particulars of the present arrangements for payments of reparations of arrearages of Germany to Belgium are to shortly be laid on the table of the House as the result of questions by Premier Mackenzie King in the House of Commons today replying to a request by Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative, Vancouver Centre.

MIXING AT VANCOUVER SUGGESTED

Inspector Bliss provoked this study by explaining that until three months ago the process of loading a cargo of grain called for the inspector satisfying himself that a load was dry and in proper condition. But as a result of a dispute with the port warden, his superior had told him the entire responsibility rested on that officer, as to condition of ship."

EXPLAINS CHANGE

This change had been made about when Inspector Bliss had objected to grain going into a ship where it was so wet that the grain would be damaged, but it had been declared dry and ready.

After he had got it dried out with burlap he permitted the grain to start and when the matter was taken up at headquarters he was told to leave that responsibility to the port captain. But the port captain was not connected with the Government grain department. He is made responsible only for the seaworthiness of a vessel.

It was pointed out in the interest of Prairie producers that this very dilemma might be responsible for numerous complaints from overseas patrons that certificates issued by the Government as to grades were wrong. For instance, a grade of No. 2 might be given a shipment which got wet on route and would, on arrival in Europe, be found to grade tough and damp, but the Government certificate would rule as to the prices. This would account for complaints that Canadian grain was not up to standard.

HOSPITAL DAY APPEAL MADE BY MINISTER

Day will be celebrated by most of the general hospitals throughout the province. This time of the year is chosen because May 12 was the date upon which Florence Nightingale was born.

"Public hospitals have become one of the prime necessities of our present-day civilization and a hospital is usually one of the first institutions to be built in any community.

"The Government of this province is vitally interested in all health matters, and especially in respect to public hospitals, of which there are some seventy in the province. The taxpayers are called upon to contribute the enormous sum of nearly $1,250,000 a year for the support of these institutions.

"I fervently hope that as many people as possible will take advantage of Hospital Day to visit their local hospital and see for themselves what is being done and the service that is being given.

"The hospital is indispensable to your community. It cannot exist and give its best service without your support. The active co-operation of the public is necessary if hospitals are to function successfully and develop as the district's they serve grows."

AT JUBILEE HOSPITAL

Annual Hospital Day, held each year as nearly as possible on Florence Nightingale Day, will be observed by the Provincial Royal Jubilee Hospital this afternoon. "Open house" will be held between 3 and 5 o'clock, and the public will be cordially welcomed at this time and allowed to see over the building. The Florence Nightingale Chapter, I.O.D.E., will serve tea.

Owing to the formal opening and annual linen shower of St. Joseph's Hospital taking place on May 23, this institution will not observe Hospital Day this year. The public is asked to note this fact.

fication of this instrument in respect of all parts of the kingdom was deported in Washington," the message said.

"The King expressed a hope that events in China would continue to improve and progress toward more stable conditions. He also expressed the hope peace soon would be restored in Afghanistan.

"My Government has continued to press for reduction of armaments in consultation with other Governments at Geneva," the message said. "A new hope of an early settlement of the question of further naval disarmament has recently been given by the speech of the United States delegates there, of which my Government was not slow to express its appreciation.

"My Government has announced its resolution of taking necessary action to enable me to accept, subject to reciprocity, the protocol prohibiting chemical and bacteriological methods of warfare. All governments have announced a similar intention.

The speech recounts the work of the Simon commission on India statutory reform, and voiced the hope success might crown its efforts. His Majesty added that in pursuance of recommendations of the Imperial Conference in 1926, arrangements had been made for the meeting in London of an expert committee on Dominion legislation consisting of "representatives of my Governments," and for the holding of a subconference on merchant shipping legislation.

VICTORIA BAND WELL RECEIVED

Cautiously the vessel was steered into Bellingham harbor, and then strove to warn others of her presence with loud blasts of the whistle. It was nearly 2 o'clock in the afternoon when South Bellingham was made out. A Ryan mackinaw from shore hovered over the Adelaide and darted back with the glad tidings that the ship would dock within half an hour, which she did, berthing at Bellingham at 2.20 o'clock.

The 5th Brigade Band played the "Star Spangled Banner" as Lieutenants W. P. Trower and H. P. Hanna, of Fort Lawton; Mr. H. E. Vinson and Mr. Frank Wanser, representing Mayor John A. Kellogg of Bellingham, and Mr. John Paxton, of the festival committee, greeted Captain Bowden at the gangplank. Three Buzie Boy Scouts, Norman Bright, Jack Dawley and James McGlinn, presented the pipe band with its banner.

Mayor Herbert Ancomb and Mrs. Ancomb were to have met the Adelaide, but were unable to do so, as the parade was half-way through when the ship docked. Mr. Vinson informed Captain Bowden that the committee had tried to get in touch with the vessel through Seattle radio stations, but had been unable to attract her attention.

The two Victoria bands were rushed from the wharf by automobile and joined in with their music, reinforced by the Vancouver Policemen's Pipe Band. Afterwards commanding officers of the 5th Brigade were entertained by the Fort Lawton officers.

The excursionists left Bellingham at 5.30 o'clock, arriving here at 9.15. Many tired but happy looking. The Adelaide left for Vancouver on the triangle run at 11 45.

ASK RESERVE FOR BATHING AT POINT GREY

An application made by a delegation representing the city of Vancouver, consisting of Messrs. C. E. Tisdall and W. S. Rawlings, of a park board, to the Government of the province is now before the cabinet. The delegates asked for the setting aside of waterfront from Locarno Beach around Point Grey to the Indian Reserve for public use as a bathing beach.

The Government has made no reply as to what action will be taken. The matter will be gone into at an early date in the absence from the Minister of Lands, Hon. P. P. Burns, who will confer with representatives of the city in the Legislature, with members of the City Council, Park Board of Trade and other representative bodies for the purpose of ascertaining what the views of the city are on the order-in-council giving that, action will be decided upon.

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY

Dr. McCoy's menus suggested for the week beginning Sunday, May 12:

Sunday—Breakfast: Coddled eggs, toasted cereal, bran muffins, stewed prunes. Lunch: Baked egg plant, string beans, celery and ripe olives. Dinner: Roast pork, cooked spinach, mashed potatoes, pineapple and lettuce.

Monday—Breakfast: Orange, browned through; small amount of maple syrup, crisp bacon, pear sauce. Lunch: Greens as desired. Dinner: Vegetable soup, Salisbury steak, baked creamed beets, squash, string bean salad, pineapple whip.

Tuesday—Breakfast: Eggs poached in milk, on Melba toast, stewed raisins. Lunch: Peanut butter soup, salad of raw asparagus. Dinner: Baked sea bass, cooked spinach and parsley, salad of sliced tomatoes, plain Jell-O or Jell-Well, no cream.

Wednesday—Breakfast: Breakfast food re-toasted, with cream, no sugar; one coddled egg, stewed figs. Lunch: Raw apples as desired. Dinner: Jellied tomato bouillon, broiled chicken, okra, parsnips, salad of raw spinach, grapejuice whip.

Thursday—Breakfast: Baked eggs, Melba toast, stewed apricots. Lunch: Cooked turnip tops, moulded vegetable salad of peas, chopped celery and cucumber. Dinner: Roast mutton, steamed carrots, spinach, celery and nut salad, one slice of dry lunch.

Friday—Breakfast: Wholewheat muffins, peanut butter, applesauce. Lunch: Tomato soup, salad of string beans. Dinner: Baked white fish, stewed tomatoes, cooked lettuce, turnip salad, no dessert.

Saturday—Breakfast: French omelet, Melba toast, stewed prunes. Lunch: Potatoes on the half shell, soaked asparagus. Dinner: Vegetable soup, roast beef, baked greens, carrots and beets, salad of raw celery and lettuce, raspberry whip.

"Grapejuice whip: Place over the fire in a double boiler one pint of grapejuice. Let come to almost boiling point, then stir in one package of gelatin which has been soaking in a little cold water. Continue the work for a few minutes, remove from fire and let cool. When contained cereal, bran and prunes are still light and fold in the stiffly beaten whites of three eggs. Serve in compote glasses, topped with a dash of whipped cream.

NO RELIEF FOR GRAIN TIE-UP

Congestion at Lake Ports and Montreal Likely to Last for Two Weeks

PORT WITLAND, May 10.—Little grain remains in the hands of the Western farmer, according to the report for April on movement of Western Canadian grain crops by E. A. Trueil, statistician to the Board of Grain Commissioners, who looks for a rapid decrease in Canadian visible supply of wheat. The report deals with the congestion at Montreal and Port Colborne, but Mr. Trueil sees little relief in sight for at least two weeks, though a lessening of the head of the lakes is not anticipated.

The report says the movement via Vancouver is steadily diminishing, but the volume handled this season to date far exceeds all previous years. Substantial quantities are still being moved from interior points to Vancouver and a steady movement will continue for some time.

MONTREAL, May 10.—The following harbor commission figures, issued yesterday, summed up the present grain congestion in the Montreal harbor, together with grain movements to date:

Lake boats in port waiting to unload, seventy-seven.

Stocks on board these boats, 8,596,297 bushels.

Stocks in elevators, 12,839,702 bushels.

Total stocks on hand, 19,735,999 bushels.

Receipts, 1929, 4,201,156 bushels.

Same date last year, 2,698,875 bushels.

Deliveries, 1930, 4,830,318 bushels.

Same date last year, 4,041,110 bushels.

There are 2,411,030 bushels of grain on order for lake and ocean tramp steamers chartered to load here, according to the harbor commission figures.

LONDON, May 10.—The price of wheat in English markets has been falling all this week and has reached a new low level since 1914. Some observers are predicting further decline, while others believe the bottom has nearly or already been reached.

Overproduction of wheat in the United States, Canada, Argentina and Australia, with resultant accumulation of vast stocks which the holders are now in urgent need of selling, was regarded here as the primary cause of the slump, although reduction of American railroad freight rates to facilitate export as an important contributory cause.

SIR JOHN SIMON ANSWERS ATTACK

Says Government Can't Be Made to Work Smoothly by Ignoring Liberals

PEMBROKE DOCK, Wales, May 10.—Sir John Simon, in an address here last night, replied to the attacks on the Liberal party made by Right Hon. Winston Churchill, at Glasgow, last night. He said Mr. Churchill had the effrontery to describe the Liberal campaign as a conspiracy, the effect of which would be to obstruct the smooth working of parliamentary institutions.

"Does he," asked Sir John, "really suppose that when there are three parties in the state the smooth working of parliamentary institutions can be secured by ignoring one of them? Does he imagine that because he foresaw Liberalism in the hour of difficulty, there are no Liberals left?

"The smooth working parliamentary institution is not to be secured by treating the millions of Liberals in this country as outcasts, but by recognising that the best security for orderly government is to make political representation in the House of Commons really correspond to political opinion in the country."

WHIPPET DERBY PLANNED HERE

Will Be Held in Conjunction With May 24 Celebration Horse Racing at Willows Track

Sixteen entries have been received for the Canadian Whippet Derby to be held at the Willows race track on May 24 in conjunction with the horse racing, which is part of the annual celebration programme. It was announced yesterday by Mr. Harold Palmer, secretary of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

This is something decidedly new in Victoria in the way of sport. Whippet racing has taken a great hold on racing enthusiasts in England and is the queen of sports among motion picture actresses of California.

Whippet racing is a form of sport which has a great vogue in some parts of the Old Country, particularly in the North and Midlands, and also in South Wales. The dogs that will race here during the May 24 celebrations are rated as being very valuable. Some are worth as much as $500.

The most outstanding entry is the famous Mack Sennett winner of the Hollywood Derby, Chevrot Hills Derby, Saddle Open Handicap, second in the Colton Handicap Pacific Whippet Derby, and second in the American and Canadian breed at Washington, D.C. The dog is owned by Mr. James Mallandain, of Vancouver, and holds the American record at Fresno last year.

Whippets have been termed the fastest thing on four legs, and the races should be very interesting. The sport is gaining a strong hold on the racing public, and the first Derby to be held in Victoria promises to be a thrilling one.

A good programme of horse racing is also promised for the afternoon of May 24. Mr. Palmer stated yesterday. The whippet and horse races will start at 2.30 o'clock in the afternoon, directly following the grand parade.

BANNING OF WILD FLOWER SALE URGED

Victoria Real Estate Board Registers Emphatic Protest Against Disposal of Wild Flowers by Public

MOTION PASSES UNANIMOUSLY

Emphatic protest against the sale of wild flowers by the public was registered by members of the Real Estate Board of Victoria yesterday, at its regular luncheon meeting in Spencer's private dining-room, presided over by President Stewart Clark.

A resolution, sponsored by Mr. J. C. Bridgeman and F. B. Pemberton, was unanimously adopted and read as follows:

"That to save our indigenous wild flowers from depletion, and to prevent varieties from total extermination, it is in our opinion necessary to have their sale, or exposure for sale, or their use to decorate shops or commercial premises, prohibited by law in the same manner than the sale of game is prohibited. Permits might be granted for their distribution at properly conducted flower shows—or such might be excepted from the sale.

LOSS IN CHARM

"That we, ourselves, are keenly aware of the loss in charm, beauty and attraction our countryside would suffer were our more delicate wild flowers allowed to be exterminated.

"That we believe a demand for such legislation would meet with the willest public support.

"That our executive be requested to consider and report on what means to them seem best to persuade the Government of the public demand for such legislation. And for this purpose to invite co-operation of all public bodies, clubs and associations."

INVITATES MOVEMENT

Mr. Joseph C. Bridgman, in moving the resolution, said he was convinced that the only practical way of having the sale of flowers stopped was by penalty, the sale in the same manner as the sale of game is prohibited. He felt the board should initiate this movement and seek the assistance of all other public bodies and request the Government to enact such legislation.

The speaker said that since bringing the question before the board at a recent meeting, he had received letters indorsing the banning of the sale of wild flowers. He also advocated prohibiting the picking of wild flowers, especially by boys, who sold large bunches for small rewards. Wild flowers were doubtless of great value and an attraction for tourists.

In seconding the motion, Mr. F. B. Pemberton considered the board should urge that the picking of flowers in local parks be prohibited.

"We must try and do something with the parks. There's no reason why our parks should not be a carpet of flowers. The picking of flowers at Mount Rainier Park and other American parks is not allowed. If they can enforce this regulation in America, I can see no reason why it cannot be enforced here," Mr. Pemberton stated.

CITY RECEIVES NEW EQUIPMENT

Gas Roller Will Also Scarify Roads, Cutting Down Operating Expenses

The new gas roller and scarifier was delivered to the city yesterday. The machine was purchased at a cost of $6,500. City Engineer F. M. Preston carried out preliminary tests yesterday on road work being undertaken on Cook Street. The machine pulled wonderfully well up the steep grade.

Arrangements are being made to give the machine a trial week-end before members of the public works committee next time next week. During this test, roller work will be carried out and a demonstration of scarifying will also be given.

The city was advised yesterday, Alderman John Worthington, chairman of the fire wardens, said, that the mechanics' strike at the plant of the American La France Fire Truck Corporation had been ended. The strike had been called off three days before the local mechanics union had presented to the City Council and the agreement with the company for the supplying of a $15,000 fire truck and pump had been signed.

An automobile toll road costing $5,000,000 will connect Sao Paulo and Santos, Brazil.

Effective May 13, the afternoon boat to Vancouver will leave Victoria daily at 1.45.

Another Step Taken Toward Church Union

LONDON, May 10.—The assembly of the Congregational Union of England and Wales has adopted an important report on reunion with the Church of England and the Free Churches.

The report suggests some central organization should be formed with certain administrative powers to promote co-operation between the Congregational churches and the various parts of the Free Churches and the Anglican Church.

In connection with the Anglican Church, however, the report does not accept the view that episcopacy, or government of the church by bishops, is a necessary organ of church unity and continuity. It does not believe union can be brought about by acceptance of episcopal ordination.

The Congregationalists are the most ancient community of dissenters. In 1631 the majority of their churches were formed into the Congregational Union, which includes at present 4,704 churches and preaching stations.

PARADE PRIZE LIST ISSUED

CITY FIRE DEPARTMENT WILL ENTER TWO BANDS AND PART OF EQUIPMENT

Fifteen Hundred Dollars in Prizes Offered in Fifteen Different Sections

With the announcement that the City Fire Department would enter two bands and three pieces of equipment in the May 24 Victoria Day parade, the official prize list was issued yesterday.

Alderman John Worthington, chairman of the fire wardens, stated yesterday that the firemen would enter their silver band in the procession and also a comic band. Three pieces of decorated equipment will also be entered.

The parade will assemble at noon and start off from the corner of Yates and Cook Streets punctually at 1 o'clock. The route will be down Yates Street to Government Street, to Superior Street, to Douglas Street, to Beacon Hill Park, opposite the flagstaff, where the parade will disperse.

All entries for the parade may be turned into Mr. Harold Palmer, secretary of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. The prize list is as follows:

DENIES POLITICS INFLUENCED ACTION

Mr. Whitney-Griffiths Explains Circumstances of His Retirement From Secretaryship

"My resignation from the advisory board of the Farmers' Institute had nothing to do with the subject of expense," says Mr. C. E. Whitney-Griffiths, former secretary of that body. Mr Whitney-Griffiths goes on to say that he is in no way responsible for the attempt to make the matter a political one. He has no desire to do so, and did not at any such complication upon the incident.

The reference to the matter which had appeared in The Colonist, he thought, might bear the interpretation that the matter was one mixed up with the subject of expenses connected with the office as presented by himself. He says that there was no such aspect of the matter in his thought.

"The last account I rendered the department was on February 7. The resignation did not come until May 8," said he.

Further, he stated, he did not wish to mix agricultural matters with politics, and he considered he had always tried to keep these matters separate.

BRIDLE PATHS IN VICTORIA ARE DESIRED

Real Estate Board Invites Public Support for Construction of Proposed Trails Around City

REALTORS TO VISIT SOOKE

A special committee, consisting of Major K. B Spurgin, Messrs. F. J. D. Pemberton and W. J. Goodlake, was appointed by the Victoria Real Estate Board, yesterday, at its luncheon meeting, to invite the public to subscribe funds for the construction of bridle paths around Victoria.

The realtors are solidly behind the proposal to build a network of bridle trails and paths about the city, and hope to secure the support and co-operation of public bodies and citizens in the project.

Major K. B Spurgin said that as much riding space as possible should be opened up, but that without support by public bodies no development of proposed bridle paths would be possible. He said bridle paths would mean a great deal to visitors and residents of Victoria and adjacent districts.

The board accepted the invitation of Mr. Raoul Rochlard to hold a luncheon at the Belvedere Hotel, at Sooke, on Saturday, June 8, when members of the organization will ride over the extensive bridle paths constructed by the Rochlard Brothers in the past year.

A report on a visit to Mount Tolmie Park, in company with the Victoria-Saanich beaches and parks committee, was made to the gathering by Mr. Alfred Carmichael and Major H. Cuthbert Holmes.

A convention committee of Major Holmes and Mr. Frederick Landsberg was named to greet Presidents G. A. Spencer and Secretary T. W. Simmonds, of the Pacific Northwest Real Estate Association, upon their arrival in Victoria, next Thursday morning. The visitors will address a luncheon meeting of the board at noon on that day, in Spencer's dining-room.

BANKER LAUDS CITY'S CHARMS

MR. T. D. DUDLEY, OF SANTA MONICA, SAYS ISLAND IS PLAYGROUND

Tells Real Estate Board That Victoria Should Advertise More in Southern California

"Victoria is one of the most beautiful cities I have seen visited in my life. You have the playground of the Northwest right here. People wishing to spend a holiday could not come to a more desirable place than Victoria. I do not think, however, that you advertise the city enough. I do not see Victoria advertised in the South," declared Mr. T. H. Dudley, vice-president of the Security First National Bank of Santa Monica, California, in speaking at yesterday's luncheon meeting of the Real Estate Board of Victoria, in Spencer's private dining-room.

Mr. Dudley told the gathering he believed that, if Victoria did more advertising in California, more people from the South would visit Vancouver Island. He spoke of the success that Santa Monica's great advertising campaign had been, pointing out that Santa Monica gave extensive hospitality to its beautiful parks, wonderful homes, schools and other leading features.

The speaker recalled that it was twenty years since he was last in Victoria, and was astonished at the splendid development and progress that had been made since. He hoped that Victorians fully realized that they had a wonderful city, and that they would strive to make it a great playground, which would be famous the world over.

Mr. Harry R. Lewis, of Santa Monica, one of Victoria's most enthusiastic "boosters," and a heavy investor in real estate here, was given a warm welcome on his return from Southern California, where he spent the past two months. Mr. Lewis thanked the realtors for their greeting, and expressed himself as glad to be back in Victoria again.

DANCER'S DEATH PROBED

LOS ANGELES, May 10.—Questioning of Mildred Harris and Natalie Joyce, screen actresses, has failed to disclose incidents which led to the death of Delphine Walsh, dancer, at Glendale, Cal., following an abortive illegal operation, William A. Byrne, special agent for the state board of medical examiners, said here today. Two physicians, Dr. F. B. Traeler and Dr. R. J. Lasterman, are charged with murder in connection with her death.

My throat was strengthened and that racking cough ceased to bother me. Today I am well—not a trace of catarrh is left—all due to the remedial action of Catarrhozone, which has a strange healing effect upon catarrhal conditions." DE VALERA EJECTED

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, May 10.—Eamonn de Valera, Irish Republican leader, was suspended in the Dail Eireann, on a motion of President Cosgrave for attributing unfairness to the Speaker.

20,000 ACRES OF ONTARIO LANDS ARE UNDER WATER

CHATHAM, Ont., May 10.—More than 20,000 acres of Dover land, among the most fertile in the country, are flooded as a result of high lake levels. Many of the protecting dykes have collapsed under the pressure of the water, ruining all chances of farmers deriving any revenue from crops this year.

WINDSOR, Ont., May 10.—Waging a strenuous battle against turbulent Lake Erie waters, the farm folk of Pelee Island, it was reported today, are maintaining night and day shifts of workers to hold up dykes on the eastern side of the island, where the lake is within a foot and a half of the top, and slowly rising.

Thousands of sandbags already have been thrown up against the dyke to strengthen weak spots. The island people are working pumps night and day to keep the inner portions of the island dry.

HUDSON BAY ROUTE

In the scheme for establishing navigation through the Hudson Strait and a new way for the products of Canada to Europe the Hudson Bay Railway is now well on its way towards completion. That is only an initial stage in which perhaps the smallest portion of the expense involved is being undertaken. There is the question of establishing port facilities, navigation aids throughout the sea route and the provision of a special type of ships for the trade. The expenditure in sight before the project is complete involves an immense sum of money.

It was suggested to the Government that some of the smaller vessels of the Canadian National Steamships Company should be tried out on the Hudson Bay route, but it is not to be entertained. Reports it has on the subject have led the Government to the belief that specially equipped vessels must be provided and these are to be built at the taxpayers' expense. Ice is the most serious obstacle to the passage of the Strait. The bay is open enough, though ice forms on the shores for several miles out to sea and there are occasional floes. There is heavy ice encountered in the strait which drifts down through Fox Channel, and this may frequently prevent the passage of ships. The Government has been making observations through bases established at Port Burwell, Wakeham Bay and Nottingham Island and by means of air patrols. When navigation is attempted there will be permanent bases for aerial patrols which must constitute a heavy expense, as well as other elaborate aids to navigation. Since specially-constructed vessels are considered necessary for the route it looks as if all the trade will be confined to these, so that the Federal Government will have a monopoly of the route and whatever losses there are will have to be borne by the taxpayers. Whitewer may be the advantages of the Hudson Bay route it has elements of uncertainty which make its success very problematical. It is longer than any of the existing routes to Europe from Canada, it will involve more expense to establish and it will be the most hazardous of seaways. The taxpayers are only at the beginnings of the expenditures which will ultimately be involved.

AN AMERICAN VICTORY

The triumph of Walter Hagen, for the second consecutive year and for the fourth time in all, in the British golf championship, is a result that is a tribute to his iron determination and his unusually consistent skill at the game. It was a decisive victory by six strokes over Johnny Farrell, one of his Ryder Cup teammates, and he more highly deserved because on the first day of the competition he appeared to have little better than an outside chance. It might be an exaggeration to say that Hagen has proved himself the most proficient of professional golfers. He has suffered defeats like all the best players do, for there is an element of golfing luck inevitably in the game which is one of its charms. Hagen, however, is as dour a fighter as there is in sport. He never knows when he is beaten and that is the quality which has made him so much admired as a skilled player in Britain. His victory was popular, not so popular as a British course as if a Britisher had won, but Hagen himself has the highest praise for the sportsmanship of the Scotch crowds, and yesterday, in the final half of the championship, he was the cynosure of the largest gallery. He simply repaid the curiosity he aroused by his consistent play. Consistency won him his latest championship, the blue ribbon of golf, for more representative players have come to the British open than in any other golfing event in the world.

The United States had had its revenge for the defeat sustained in the Ryder Cup games. Its players have secured the first three places in the open championship and a representation of over 50 per cent in the first twenty finishers. They proved, too, that they are not only fair-weather golfers, because the conditions during a part of the competition were anything but pleasant. There will be disappointment in Britain that a British golfer could not win. The lesson of the open championship, if lesson there is for the British golfers, is pointed to by Hagen himself who says that the Americans have lots of practice in seventy-two-hole medal play and are consequently used to such competitions. These contests are few and far between in Britain, a defect which will, no doubt be remedied in the future.

INTER-IMPERIAL TRADE

New Zealand, South Africa and Australia are proportionately greater purchasers of British goods than is Canada. All of these countries are a greater distance from the market which they patronize so well than the Dominion is, and, presumably, the freight rates are greater. Last year different portions of the Empire, apart from the Irish Free State, took 42 per cent of British goods exported. New Zealand's purchases amounted to £13 5s 8d per capita of her population; Australia's to £8 17s 3d; South Africa's £4 2s 2d, and Canada's £3 12s. There are several portions of the Empire also large purchasers of British goods, such as Nigeria and the Gold Coast. Inter-Empire trade between most of the countries concerned is on the upgrade.

Mr. G. A. Mitchell, president of the Association of British Chambers of Commerce, says a stand taken idea prevails as to Britain's continued ability to compete in world trade. The truth is, he says, that there are few goods which, on level conditions, Britain cannot produce at prices to compete with any country. Where she is handicapped is by relatively higher labor costs, maintaining a standard of living much higher than in any country in Europe. In spite of this, however, Mr. Mitchell says Britain is carrying on a very large trade and is employing more workers than at any time in the history of the country. The establishment of the Empire Marketing Board has been justified, for inter-imperial trade is developing. There is a proposal afoot now to spend £1,000,000 annually in advertising British goods throughout the Empire under the aegis of the Empire Marketing Board.

A BEMUSING VOTING SYSTEM

Proportional Representation having been given a fair trial in Northern Ireland is to be abolished. A Bill to this effect has been passed by the Northern Parliament and the pending election will be held on the principle of the single-member constituencies. Already Proportional Representation has been done away with at the local government election. The Belfast Telegraph says the system has proved a failure "and the reversal to the old idea of single-member constituencies will be generally welcomed." It has been in force in Northern Ireland since 1920, and was put into force without opposition from any party. Political party. It still prevails in the Free State, but sentiment is growing steadily there in favor of its abolition. Mr. Desmond Fitzgerald, Free State Minister of Defence, said recently, "Proportional Representation will have to be done away with, for it is little more than a farce."

What has been found is that Proportional Representation is too cumbersome for practical working. As applied to large constituencies where there are anything up to 100,000 voters it is unwieldy and gives the member no chance to keep in touch with those who elected him. The system has been found confusing to the public; it is a nightmare to the election officials, often as long as three days are necessary to arrive at the final results. In the Northern Parliament opposition to the measure for the abolition of Proportional Representation came from the Labortics, simply because it was a Government measure. Labor, however, does not favor the system of voting. It was solidly opposed by the British Laborites when debated at Westminster. In Britain it is regarded as a scheme to "load the dice" against Labor.

Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, the British Labor leader, carries a vocal handicap in his campaign for the election of his party at the polls. The initials of his name, pronounced sting the "Red Flag" as their anthem, and its words inspire little confidence among those who have accumulated wealth to look up to the Union Jack as the national emblem.

"MILLIONS OF STARS IN THE WINDOW"

(Said a pioneer, describing her voyage through Southern waters during his six months' journey from England to Victoria, B.C., in 1873.)

Millions of stars all aglean in the water,
Glistening, shimmering, gone, reappearing,
As through the trackless, vast ocean we journey
Slowly this vessel her way is steering

Moving, dancing, then quickly extinguished,
Black, beneath the moon we have passed the sea,
Lost in the oncoming tower of waters
Frightful, majestic, unanswerable, free

Then, when its volume is spent and exhausted
Comes the long interval burnished with light,
"Millions of stars in the water" apparently,
Ceaselessly moving, transcendently bright!

Victoria, B.C. —Ethel Seymour.

INDUSTRY AND LONGEVITY

The industry of the late Dr. Meyer, who preached 15,000 sermons and all the time his parish travelled 15,000 miles, is very reminiscent of John Wesley, who, when seventy-seven, declared that he had never felt "weariness of spirits" since he was born. This and his great physical strength he attributed to rising at four for about fifty years, to preaching at five in the morning. "One of the most healthy exercises in the world," and to traveling never less than 4,500 miles a year by land or sea.—"Looker-On," in The London Daily Chronicle.

THE SILENT WEAVER

Time! Thy shuttle is a flying
Thro' the looms of silent years,
And, in the shadows, I hear, not weaving
In life's joys, its pains, its tears.

Ever onwards flies thy shuttle,
None may hid thy hand in stay,
But thy web it will be finished
When thou cearest on Judgment Day.

—Sidney J. Shadbolt, in Chambers' Journal.

The world needs and must have, and forever will have, at the front men who live in the future; men whose eyes are in their faces, who look onward and press onward, and do it eagerly. From such men the world starts its leaders. It is always so and always will be so.—Austin Phelps.

Note and Comment

By B. B. D.

What with a new President, a new Vice-President, a newly-new Congress and a new tariff for the Congress to discuss and the President to amend, accept or reject, as the case may be, the busy political bees are buzzing at Washington. Indeed, what between one thing and another, there is going to be an exceedingly interesting time at Washington, before the House finishes its business and adjourns for its seasonal rest and refreshment.

The disposition of the tariff will be a very simple matter, for so are all things equal among the sugar company which believes that when Congress has made up its mind to adopt adequate measures for the stimulation of the drooping agricultural industry of the United States and for other industries of the United States that are in a more or less state of health, then the wisdom of Congress can be altered by pistol-shot pleas for mercy to any of the menaced industries of Canada. The valiant Senator Borah stands within the breach and will take measures to prevent Congress from changing its mind, if it, as has been represented, is inclined to change its mind.

* * *

The political situation is not the only most interesting situation that has developed at Washington and is engaging the attention of the mighty nation. The social situation at the Capital is far more interesting than the political situation there. The interesting social situation that has developed involves a question of precedence at state functions. In the old days when such questions came in the Canadian capital, they usually were summarily settled. Then the salt cellar was supposed to be the dividing line on the table between the classes. The powerful chiefs were seated above the salt, and the ordinary chiefs below it. One day a dispute arose about the order of precedence, and the bold chief of one of the sepia aunties disposed of the issue by declaring that wherever The MacGregor, or The Macpherson, or whoever The Mac may have been, that sits at the head of the table.

* * *

But that traditional incident was an exceptional mere man. The misunderstanding at Washington is a matter between more than mere women. Wives of course is quite a different matter. In Canada, which is a really democratic country, we do not bother our brains very much about such trivial matters as to who has the right to be considered as the First Lady of the Land and to be first in order of precedence at all state functions. Yet that is the issue that has set social Washington in a turmoil. If the Vice-President had been a wife instead of a man, he would have trouble by providing himself with a wife. Not apparently the simple Mr. Curtis did not foresee the complications that were certain to arise from his function as President of state. If there had been a Mrs. Curtis, the lady would have been accepted without question as the First Lady of the Land; but when the Vice-President, thoughtless man, attempted to establish his status with a bachelor woman, in the position reserved for the wife he should have had, there was immediately trouble. And, though the diplomatic corps, the chief of which happens to be the British Ambassador, dislikes to matter temporarily, the trouble is still simmering and sometimes boiling.

* * *

There is no question whatever about the Americanism of the Curtises. They have the red blood of the original inhabitants of the country in their veins and are proud of their descent from the now almost extinct tribes. But the wife of the speaker of the House also has rich and proud blood coursing through her veins. She is a Roosevelt, descended in pure and direct line from the illustrious Knickerbockers of New Amsterdam. Mrs. Longworth has accepted the decree of the diplomatic corps, but she accepted it with reservations. The sister of the Vice-President may serve her office in precedence and social functions, but as no private social functions shall a daughter of the Roosevelts be found meekly humbly behind Mrs. Genn. Mrs Longworth may not have inherited the Big Stick of her bold and adventurous father, but she wields a weapon that is quite as effective for its special purposes.

* * *

There is therefore a state of war between the White House at Washington and high society in Washington. Mrs. Coolidge is determined to maintain her position, and Mrs. Longworth has established a line defensive for her position. The President, poor man, being descended from Quaker stock and having been trained in plain ways and simple manners, must be either amused or pained when he sees what is going on around him. He may be quite capable of managing the House or Senate, but if he is a wise man he will leave the direction and regulation of the social affairs of Washington to the social leaders of the City and the District of Columbia. If there is a Mrs. Hoover, he will make no mistake if he should consult her on the subject.

WILLOWS RACE TRACK LEASE STILL STANDS

Victoria Park Association's Receivership Does Not Affect Agreement City Has With Colwood Club

BAN LIFTED ON MACHINES

So far as the city has been advised at the present time, the Colwood Park Racing Association will continue the horse racing at the Willows track this Summer. Until the city is advised differently, nothing will be or can be done. Mr. H. S. Pringle, city solicitor, stated yesterday, when the question of the Victoria Park Association being in the receiver's hands was put up to him.

It was explained by Mr. L. A. Cornish, receiver, that the Victoria Park Association and the Colwood Park Racing Association were two distinct bodies. It was the Victoria Park Association, owners of the Colwood race track, grandstand and clubhouse, that was in the receiver's hands. This would in no way affect the Colwood Park Racing Association in connection with the lease it had on the Willows race track.

The Colwood Park Racing Association has a five-year lease with the city for the use of the Willows race track, providing the automatic betting machines are used. Two of this five years have expired. The city must be paid thirty days before the races start, failing which the agreement is automatically canceled. In the event of the automatic machines not being used, a board of arbitration will consider the matter and decide whether the reason they were not used justifies the city in terminating the agreement with the association.

Mr. J. B. Clearihue, solicitor of the automatic betting machine company, stated yesterday that the automatic betting machines would be used this year, the ban placed on them by the Department of Agriculture having been lifted. Government officials will observe their operation this year and report to the Department of Agriculture on the success of the machines.

FEATURES THAT DISTINGUISH SCOUT MOVEMENT

Those things, which would seem so uncertain in the Scout movement as different from any other boy movements, are these:

1. The Scout promise and law.
2. The patrol system and team work.
3. The emphasis placed at all times on a Scout's honour.
4. The practical way of discipline and training.
5. Our motto, "Be Prepared."
6. Our slogan, "Help other people at all times."
7. Our badge system which, at the time Scouting was started, was peculiar to it alone.
8. The fact that Scout teaching is all positive.
9. The movement is non-sectarian and non-class.
10. One of the key activities of Scouting is woodcraft.
11. The movement is non-military.
12. The Scout uniform and the tradition which is rapidly developing around it.

To sum up, Scouting is an all round programme, training boys in hobbies and handicrafts, with a view to introducing them to the trade or profession they will follow in adult life and, at the same time, developing character and a healthy body. It makes for happiness, inculcating an appreciation of God the Creator, through familiarizing the boys with the wonders of nature.

The promise every boy takes after joining his Troop—Pledges himself to the terms following:

"On my honor I promise that I will do my best; to do my duty to God and the King; to help other people at all times; to obey the Scout law."

The Scout law is

1—A Scout's honor is to be trusted.

2—A Scout is loyal to his King, his country, his officers, his parents, his employers and to those under him.

3—A Scout's duty is to be useful and to help others.

4—A Scout is a friend to all and a brother to every other Scout.

5—A Scout is courteous.

6—A Scout is a friend to animals.

7—A Scout obeys orders of his parents, patrol leader or scoutmaster without question.

8—A Scout smiles and whistles under all difficulties.

9—A Scout is thrifty.

10—A Scout is clean in thought, word and deed.

Tomorrow we shall have something to say about the Scouts of the younger brothers of the Scouts.

A railway viaduct proposed for Birmingham, England, will have space for shops on the sides and for garages and stores underneath.

Jots From Geography

POMPEII, the unfortunate city of antiquity that was covered over with lava from the cone of Vesuvius, in Italy, has been unearthed from its burial ground in modern times. Many customs of the ancient Romans have come to light, and the historical discoveries have become invaluable. The streets were paved with meticulous care. Walls of houses were decorated with images, and signs were found on the sides of buildings. Chariots ran to and fro through her streets until deep ruts were made in the paving stones. The silent glory of the ancient city is a monument for the ones of the modern tourist.

Manuscript of Galsworthy Play Brings $16,000

LONDON, May 10.—Gabriel Weil, New York dealer, paid £3,200 (about $16,000) for the manuscript of Galsworthy's play, "Loyalties," by John Galsworthy, when it was put up for auction at an anniversary dinner last night for the benefit of the Royal Literary Fund.

HOME INMATES ARE ENTERTAINED

Metropolitan Choir Gives Concert at Mental Home, Assisted by Well-Known Artists

The inmates of the Provincial Mental Home were entertained with a concert, which was given under the auspices of the Metropolitan United Choir, in the institute, on Thursday evening.

The programme was opened by a twenty-one-piece orchestra playing the march "Laurentian," which was followed by Sullivan's well-known overture, "Poet and Peasant."

"How Sweet the Moonlight Sleeps," by Leslie, was the part-song sung by the choir, under the direction of Mr. C. A. Dowling. The other selections given by the choir were two ladies' choruses, "The Wind," by Sweelsh, and "The Shepherdess," by Robertson.

An outstanding number was a French solo, "Prom Chimes of Normandy," by Planquette, which was rendered by Mrs. A. Jones.

A humorous song, "What's the Matter With Father," which was sung by Mr. A. H. Adams, made a great hit with the audience, the encore being "Heigh Ho, How the Winds Blow."

Other numbers on the first part of the programme were "My Love Is a Fisherman," by Mrs. T. Anderson, soprano; "Hills of Donegal," by Mrs. S. M. Morton, contralto; "Garden of Happiness," by Miss Dorothy Parsons, soprano; pianoforte solo, Brahms' "Rhapsody in G Minor," by Miss Dorothy Morton, and a baritone solo by Mr. F. J. Richmond.

The second part of the programme was also opened by the orchestra, under the leadership of Mr. J. T. Baker, playing "Rule Britannia," and another part-song by the choir, "Nymphs and Shepherds," by Purcell.

The programme was brought to a close by the choir singing "Honorable Artillery" march.

The accompanist for the evening was Mr E. Parsons.

"Big Guns" of British Election

By THOMAS T. CHAMPION
Canadian Press Staff Correspondent

LONDON, May 10.—The eccentric but fine sense of humor of Lloyd George, vividly exemplified when he is remembered that twenty-odd years ago Sir William Joynson-Hicks entered Parliament by sounding defeating Mr. Winston Churchill in Northwest Manchester, "Hear, hear Sir William is often referred to in the lobbies and the newspapers as a satirist by calling, but a good while back a handicap legacy caused him to hyphenate his surname and to forsake the law for politics.

Pugnacious in platform manner and tenacious of his points when speaking in the House, he has a contagious sense of humor, probably it is this which saves him from being a kill-joy.

An Home Secretary, he has had one of the most harassing offices in the entire Cabinet. His efforts to bring a larger element of the population into contact with the deterrent, into the prison system of the country have been widely approved. He holds that short sentences render it impossible for the prison commissioners to make any lasting impression on the characters of those under their charge

Sir William Joynson-Hicks is perhaps the most stalwart layman of organized party in the Anglican Church. His speech in the first debate upon the Prayer Book measure is considered to have been the finest effort of his life, and, since then, he has been largely responsible for the portion of the Bill by the House of Commons.

Upon the subject of church decline and discipline he can write as effectively as he can speak. Like Mr. Baldwin, he is fond of country life and rejoices in getting away for week-ends to his estate at Renwick.

FAN'S RETURN

Pan comes no more, no more, to Earth, men say
To blunder pipes and herds.
No more upon his tuneful pipes to play
And mark the envious birds.

Pan comes no more, yet with this music
Man's dim frame
A rill of music ran
Along the air when sudden breezes came
The distant pipes of Pan!

Naught else could ring so clear, so silver-sweet.
To greet the morning star;
There came the echo, too, of dancing feet
And laughter faint and far.

A wreath of pine leaves lay beside the well
Just here, at break of day,
Still fresh and fragrant where Pan lies them fall
When he passed by this way!

EXPERTS WILL IRON OUT ANOMALIES IN DOMINION STATUS

LONDON, May 10.—The expert committee which is to consider the remaining anomalies of Dominion status, as left over from the Imperial Conference in 1926, has been called to meet once time in October. It is learned.

The provisions making reservation of Dominion legislation for His Majesty's assent necessary, the competence of Dominion parliaments to give their legislation extra-territorial operations, and the extent to which the Colonial Laws Validity Act of 1865 ought to be repealed, will be modified in the light of existing relations between the various parts of the Empire, are all questions of highest importance on which the committee would be asked to make recommendations.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

From The Victoria Colonist of May 11, 1879

The Presbytery of British Columbia will meet in this city at St. Andrew's Church on Wednesday next.

Mr Arthur E. Mitchell is working of the mechanistry at New Westminster, having been appointed to fill the Inspector of Penitentiaries reports.

Mr McGregory yesterday morning commenced his contract for constructing a telegraph line between Victoria and Nanaimo. The wire is stretched between the two places, and has been placed in station between March 21 and May 1. The line is about seventy-five miles long.

HON. R. B. BENNETT WILL SPEAK HERE

Leader of Federal Opposition Expects to Attend Conservative Picnic

Hon. R. B. Bennett, leader of the Conservative party in the Commons, according to arrangements now in hand, will be the principal speaker at the party picnic, to be held some time about the latter part of July, or during the first week of August.

The arrangements for this address were entered into by Premier Tolmie, acting for the party, during his visit to the East. The arrangements are only tentative at present, depending upon nothing intervening to make it impossible for the leader of the party to attend.

Later, the possible date for the visit to Victoria will be settled upon, and then the place for the holding of the picnic will be made to conform.

The annual picnic of the Conservative Association in this city has become an event which attracts attention not only of the supporters of the party in the city, but it has become a gathering place for the whole of the district, and from various parts of the province, when visitors make it a point to be present and join the local association in a reunion.

The coming of Mr. Bennett will prove an added attraction this year.

GARDEN FUND IS PROPOSED

Mr. Harry Salmon Donates $1,000 Conditional on Subscription of an Equal Amount

Mr. Harry Salmon has offered $1,000 to the City School Board for the purpose of establishing a $2,000 endowment fund to be used to maintain annual prizes for proficiency in gardening among school children.

The donation is a provisional one, however. The provision is that a like amount be subscribed to establish the $2,000 fund. In order to raise the additional $1,000 the City Council is canvassing the various service organizations in the city.

In making the donation, Mr. Salmon wrote to the School Board the following:

"Being of opinion that a great deal of the wrongdoing (so-called) of our youth is due to want of healthy natural activities or employment of an interesting character, and I, having given the important matter serious thought, have come to the conclusion that, outside of the elements of school education, nothing would be more beneficial influence upon the young than flower gardening and culture of plants and vegetables.

"I therefore beg to offer the sum of $1,000 subject to the following terms and conditions:

"That at least a similar amount be subscribed from other sources to augment same, and the total amount thus obtained be made the nucleus of an endowment fund, and the annual interest obtained to be applied as a series of prizes to be given for specimens of floral or vegetable culture by the pupils attending the public schools of Victoria.

"I believe such a scheme would be far reaching in its benefits, not only to the rising generation, but to our beautiful city."

Blood From Burst Artery Surprises Man

SOMENOS, May 10.—Mr. A. J. Castle, of Duncan, met with a rather unusual accident on Mount Prevost Road on Thursday. While unloading sand for the crane he noticed blood on the ground, which he thought must have been from an animal's wound. To his great astonishment he found his shoe full of blood. An artery had burst; it must have been knocked. Mr. Castle rushed to the doctor, and only arrived there just in time, as he was losing so much blood.

Government of North Ireland Is Confident

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, May 10.—Despite vigorous opposition from the Nationalists, the Laborites and the Liberals as well as a schism over prohibition in the own ranks, Ulstermen party organizers are confident that the Government will strengthen its position in the general election for the Northern Ireland Parliament on May 25. There are fifty-two members to be chosen. On nomination day, May 11, the Unionists will put forty-one candidates in the field; the Nationalists will name eleven, and Labor and the Liberals six. The Government looks for a clear majority of twenty seats.

Lord Craigavon, the Premier, is unopposed in North Down. It is probable that Joseph Devlin, Nationalist leader, will have a walk-over in Central Belfast, as no Unionists will be named in that constituency. Devlin seems certain to be returned also to the Imperial Parliament for Tyrone and Fermanagh.

City Police Court

A fine of $25 was imposed by Magistrate George Jay in the city police court yesterday on Thomas H. Mitchell, who pleaded guilty to a charge of driving to the common danger on Esquimalt Road on May 4. Motorcycle Constable Percy Richards said the defendant's car was traveling at a speed of forty miles per hour.

The case of George Bishop, who was charged with driving to the common danger on Linden Avenue on May 4, was dismissed by His Honor Mr. Herbert W. Davey appeared as counsel for the defendant.

Three Mayors To Visit Victoria For Celebration

MAYOR W. H. Malkin, of Vancouver, and party; Mayor Frank Edwards, of Seattle, and party, and Mayor J. A. Kellogg, of Bellingham, and party, will come to Victoria for the May 24 celebrations, it was announced yesterday by Mr. John Baxter, mayor's secretary. Mayor Edwards is expected to come here by seaplane.

Mayor Herbert Anscomb and Mrs. Anscomb and Alderman James Adam and Mrs. Adam attended the Bellingham Tulip Festival yesterday as representatives of the City Council.

Oak Bay Court

Three motorists were fined $5 each in the Oak Bay police court yesterday for driving their cars without a rear light. Those fined were Mr. Wilson Robinson, T. H. Horne and E. D. Code. Jack Jackson was fined $5 for failing to produce his driver's licence. John Christie was fined $25 for driving to the common danger, while W. M. Pender was fined $5 for failing to stop at an arterial highway sign.

The late Mrs. Saunders was seventy years of age, born in Rugley, Staffordshire, England, and a resident of this city for the past nine years. She is survived by, besides her husband, at home, one brother, Mr. Martin Dooley, of Ladysmith, one brother in England and a sister in England. The remains are resting at the Sands Funeral Chapel, and on Monday morning the cortege will leave the chapel at 8 40 o'clock and ten minutes later mass will be held at St. Andrew's Cathedral. The remains will be laid to rest in Ross Bay Cemetery.

INSPECTOR FOR INDIAN SCHOOLS OF B.C. PASSES

VANCOUVER, May 10.—Robert Henry Cairns, inspector of Indian schools for British Columbia and a resident of the province for nearly thirty-eight years, died this morning.

Born in Hamilton, Mr. Cairns was educated there and later taught school in the Province of Ontario. In 1892 he came to British Columbia and settled at Nanaimo, where he resided for three years. He then moved to Chilliwack, where he was principal of the public school for eight years, and in 1914 was named inspector of Indian schools.

DIVORCE BILLS APPROVED

OTTAWA, May 10.—Thirty-six divorce bills were approved by the private bills committee of the House of Commons this morning with little discussion. The measures will shortly be presented to the House for third reading. One bill was allowed to stand over to enable one of the parties concerned to produce further evidence, should he so desire, in protesting the granting of a divorce.

B.C. Government's Action in Buying Property Endorsed

THE Real Estate Board of Victoria, at its luncheon meeting yesterday, went on record expressing its congratulations to the Provincial Government upon its foresight in purchasing the properties facing the Parliament Buildings, thus to provide for future extensions of buildings for administrative purposes and which will allow the preservation of the beauties of the site.

The resolution, commending the Government's action, was moved by Mr. A. Cuthbert Holmes and seconded by Mr. Beaumont Boggs, and passed unanimously.

SEAFRONT PARKS TOUR COMPLETED

Victoria-Saanich Parks and Beaches Committee to Install Camp Stoves in Parks.

The Victoria-Saanich Parks and Beaches Committee completed its annual tour Thursday and finally decided upon the programme of work for the year. Visits were made to Vernier Park, Brooks Park, Island View Park and the picnic grounds at Elk Lake.

It was decided to improve the trail at Mount Tolmie Park and put in a new trail at Cordova Bay Park. The race tracks at the Elk Lake picnic grounds will be oiled almost immediately so that they will be in good condition for the Summer session.

Small camp stoves of the type used by the Provincial Government in its parks, will be installed at Mount Tolmie Park, Mount Douglas Park Island View, Cordova Bay and Elk Lake.

They will be for picnickers' use and will also be used for burning refuse so as to keep the parks and beaches clean of wastepaper, etc.

Members of Victoria Columbia Lodge No. A.F. & A.M. B.C., are requested to meet at the Masonic Temple, Pandora Street, on Sunday, May 12, at 2 o'clock, to attend the funeral of the late brother James McLellan, late member of St. John's Lodge No. 141, Dalkeith, Scotland. Members of other local lodges and sojourning brethren in good standing are cordially invited to attend.

By order of the Wor Master.

Look for the Sternol Mystery Man

He Is Giving Away

$5 Bills!

NEXT Saturday afternoon, May 18th, the Sternol Mystery Man will be patroling the streets of Victoria, Nanaimo, and the Island Hi-way, giving away $5 bills. All you have to do to get one of these nice new bills is to have your engine filled with Sternol, get a "Sternol" sticker from the service station attendant (one sticker given with each fill of one gallon or more) and then find the Sternol Mystery Man.

He will carry a large red, white and blue Sternol flag which he will unfurl from time to time. When you see the flag, blow your horn and he will stop and hand you a $5 bill—if you have Sternol in your car.

Join in the Fun—Win $5

Sternol—the world's finest motor oil—has been on the market for over 50 years. It is refined in London, England, and is 100% pure mineral oil. Sternol does not get gummy, contains no paraffin wax, asphalt, sulphur or acid. It is carbon free.

Sternol makes your engine run more quietly because of its remarkable cushioning qualities. You'll actually hear the difference. It adds power and pep because it increases compression. You'll actually feel the difference. Have your engine flushed out and filled with Sternol and see the difference for yourself.

SERMON COSTS PASTOR'S LIFE

Idaho Minister Dies Following Assault by Members of His Congregation

PORTLAND, May 10.—Andrew Lejunen, Mullan, Idaho, minister, died in a Portland hospital early today from injuries suffered on April 6, when he was attacked and beaten by four members of the congregation who took exception to a portion of his sermon.

Death resulted from a fractured skull. He had been unconscious the past two days, but rallied late yesterday and told two Portland detectives his version of the affair.

He was unable to give police the names of the quartette.

SPOKANE, May 10.—Chief of Police F. O. Welch, of Mullan, Idaho, today informed the Associated Press by long-distance telephone that Rev. Andrew Lejunen, who died in Portland of a fractured skull, was an itinerant preacher, who held two services in Mullan. The chief said that after his second sermon there, one man apparently followed the preacher and attacked him. Welch said that by the time he had identified a man suspected of beating the minister the suspect had left town. Both the minister and his assailant were believed to be Finns.

SCHOOL CONCERT PLEASING EVENT

High School Girls' Choir and Orchestra Gives Interesting Programme for Big Audience

Such promising choral and orchestral material in the making as was heard at the concert by high school students at the High School Auditorium last night, augurs well for Victoria's musical reputation in the future. It was a highly creditable performance, and drew to Mr. F. Waddington, conductor of the girls' choir, and Mr. Harold Taylor, conductor of the orchestra, many enthusiastic compliments at the conclusion of the programme.

Mr. Taylor's is the younger of the two organizations. Although it had its inception about eighteen months ago, first under the direction of Mr. Balagno, subsequently under Mr. Green, the present conductor took it over only last February, and to work up in the brief intervening time such a splendid programme as was given last evening redounds vastly to his credit, particularly when he had to teach some of the younger players their instruments. In addition to the conducting of numberless rehearsals, the orchestra has a personnel of twenty, and, like the choir, has to meet outside competition in practically all rehearsals and at considerable sacrifice of time and convenience. Both ensembles showed great enthusiasm and keenness for the spirit. Mr. Waddington's choir expressed its appreciation of the conductor by presenting him at the close of the evening with a pair of Morocco leather wallet. Elsie Bradshaw, the choir president, making the presentation. Mr. Waddington's acknowledgment was coupled with thanks to the girls for the splendid programme which they had worked during the year.

Another presentation during the evening was to Miss Dorothy Morton, the accompanist, who received a sport skirt from the choir at the presentation. Miss Morton showed her usual marked ability in accompanying the choir, and Miss Beryl Crowther, who is the orchestra's accompanist, was equally good.

A surprising feature of the programme was the high standard of composition presented. A classical flavor prevailed throughout, both in the numbers for choir and orchestra. The orchestra led the way by playing the overture of Boieldieu's "Night of Bagdad," and it was apparent at once that the conductor had made no mistake in the inexperience of his instrumentalists by simplifying the form playing the opening solo. This was a delight in quick succession by the other instrumental, and "Down South," a melody of familiar negro melodies which is always popular. Sense of cadence and rhythm, and attention to the beats and earnestness were conspicuous throughout.

Segregating themselves from the orchestra was the string quartette, composed as follows: Pirvi Viollo, Reta Smith, second, Elsie Warbrick, viola, Elsie Wilson, 'cello. Carl Benn, playing very promising little ensemble piano with great concentration of purpose and really pleasing musical effect the Andante from Dulcedorf, which is really a violin solo, but on this occasion was arranged as a quartette. The 'cellist, Carl Benn, who took his fair proportion of the work, played with ability, had his first lesson on the instrument in October last. "Allegro non troppo," by Rheinberger, was the other quartette. The instrumentalists in this instance being Betty Corless, first violin, Elsie Wilson, viola, Mr. H. Taylor, 'cello, and piano, Miss Beryl Crowther. The more experienced professional shall or the violin made a very smooth performance of this, although here also, very young talent was being used as Eliine Wilson only began the study of the viola last February. In the orchestra and quartette color and expression is already assured form.

Victoria audiences are more familiar with Mr. Waddington's work as maker of choirs. The staging of the high school girls choir last night endorsed his already well-known reputation as conductor. He has a collection of pleasing voices, and the youthful personnel of lots was in itself an attraction, apart from the beauty of the numbers. Mr. Waddington stresses the importance of pitch, attack, control and phrasing, and the marks of expression are watched very carefully. The results are found in the feeling and refinement. Florence Aylward's "Three Things," Purcelle "Passing By," the graceful Schubert "Serenade," Needham's "Hushaby," with charming restrains and tenderness, Marion "Lovely Child," with its delicious sentiment, Markham Lee's "The Green Sedge," by far the popular of all, Percy Fletcher's "Serenade of Spring," with its happy refrain sung spontaneously, made up the choir numbers. The orchestra joined the choir in three numbers, Chutasen's "Ma Curly-Headed Baby" Midgley's "Rose" and "Down South." The blending of the two forces was happy in rhythm and met with warm applause.

Not the least interesting incident of the evening was the appearance of a youthful conductor, Alfred Hayward, who took the baton while Albert Young, flautist, and Mr. Harold Taylor, 'cellist, played a duet. "Ill's Serenade." This very charming number was beautifully played.

B.C. CONFERENCE TO OPEN MAY 15

Vancouver House of Annual Meeting of United Church—Programme Announced

VANCOUVER, May 10.—Westley Church will be headquarters for the annual conference of the United Church in British Columbia, which opens on Wednesday next.

Mayor W. H. Malkin will welcome the attending ministers and women at the opening service on Wednesday night, when Rev. W. O. Wood, D.D., will give his presidential address.

At 10 a.m. Thursday, there will be a round-table discussion on religious education work, and that evening will be "Home Mission Night," when the speakers will be Rev. W. H. Gillespie, of Bella Bella, on "Our Indian Work;" Rev. R. C. Scott, from the northern field, on "Our Mission Work;" Rev. J. Sweanson, of Carlston, on "Our Anglo-Saxon Work."

A reception service will be held Friday evening preceding ordination, when Rev. J. H. White, D.D., and Rev. C. A. Myers, from religious education headquarters at Toronto, will be the principal speakers. Rev. W. H. Smith, D.D., principal of Union College, will preside at the ordination service Sunday morning at Wesley Church.

Rev. W. J. Sipprell, D.D., pastor of Metropolitan Church, Victoria, will preach at Wesley Sunday night as part of the conference programme.

"Our W.M.S. Work," will be the topic of discussion at a meeting called for 11.30 a.m. on Saturday.

On Monday, May 20, will be observed "young people's night," and Rev. A. E. Armstrong, D.D., of Toronto, is expected to give an address on the world-wide mission of the United Church.

CANTON SUFFERS HEAVILY

HONG KONG, May 10.—Heavy casualties occurred in the Chinese city of Canton today during fighting of the batteries on Macao and Honan Islands to put down a naval rebellion in the harbor. Martial law was declared in Canton, and the streets were lined with soldiers. Many were fleeing to Hong Kong.

Celebration Is Crowded With Many Attractions

May 24 Will Be Busiest Day With Baseball, Road and Yacht Racing, Whippet and Horse Racing, Parade, Carnival and Fireworks Arranged

May 24 will be the most outstanding day of Victoria's annual three-day celebration, Mr. Harold Palmer secretary of the Junior Chamber of Commerce stated yesterday. On that day will be staged Victoria's yachting, road racing, whippet racing, horse racing, parade, carnival and fireworks.

The Victoria Day celebration will start on May 23 with the holding of the city school sports at the Willows ground. This sport will be followed in the evening by the spectacular indoor pageant to be held in the Willows Arena.

This pageant will inveigle the crowning of the Queen of May, who will be attended by her school children—princesses arrayed in courtly robes. Singing by a mass choir of 750 voices, folk-dancing and many other entertaining features will take up the whole evening.

Early Friday morning, May 24, the second day's programme will get under way with the holding of a baseball game at the Royal Athletic Park. On the same morning the Canadian Legion road race will be held and yacht racing off Dallas Road.

Punctually at 1 p.m. the grand parade will commence from the corner of Yates and Cook Streets. This will be followed by whippet and horse races at the Royal Athletic Park at 2:30 p.m. the afternoon.

At 6 o'clock another baseball game will be held at the Royal Athletic Park, while at 8:30 o'clock a fireworks display will be given at Clover Point. The pyrotechnic display will consist entirely of aerial fireworks. Clover Point has been chosen and the aerial display selected so that people can find plenty of room on Beacon Hill to watch the entire programme without any discomfort.

At 9:30 o'clock "The Night of Mystery" carnival will start at the Crystal Garden. The Junior Chamber of Commerce has been successful in securing the noted Russian mystic entertainer from a New York vaudeville circuit for this year's programme. There will be other mystical entertainers and "something doing" on all three floors of the Crystal Garden.

Carnival favors will make the dancing brilliant and gay with color, while stands will provide an element of surprise.

In connection with the Crystal Garden dance an automobile will be given away.

On May 26, the programme consists of an International rowing game at the Royal Athletic Park. This will take place at 10 a.m. Bicycle races will take place during the afternoon. Baseball will be played during the afternoon and also in the evening.

Suffered From Indigestion Was Afraid to Eat

Mrs. E. Prystai, 10548 98th Street, Edmonton, Alta., writes: "I suffered from indigestion, and was afraid to eat I suffered so after. A friend told me how she used to suffer with the same thing and how had relieved her. I took two bottles and I will never regret the day I did so. I am happy to say I can now eat anything and not be bothered with indigestion after."

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

City & District

Swimming Pool to Close—After four years of successful operation, interrupted only once during the winter period, the Crystal Garden swimming pool will be closed for repairs tomorrow and Monday. The necessity of completing the filling was the cause of the first shutdown.

Orphans to be Treated—The children of the Protestant Orphanage will be the guests of the Eagles at the afternoon's matinee of the sports show at the Royal Victoria Theatre. The Gray Line will provide the transportation. The Crystal Spring Company will provide the soft drinks and the Ormond Biscuit Company the candy.

Attended Poultry Meeting—A meeting in the interests of the poultry industry which is being held in Vancouver, was attended yesterday by officials of the Agricultural Department directly interested in the industry. The Deputy Minister, Mr J. B. Munro, Mr J. R. Terry, chief poultry husbandman, accompanied by Mr. P. W. Laing, secretary to the Minister, attended the meeting on behalf of the Department of Agriculture.

Improving Government House—A sunroom is being constructed at Government House overlooking the delightful view across the Straits and to the Olympics beyond. The plans were prepared by the chief architect of the Public Works Department, in keeping with the original plans of Mr. F. M. Rattenbury, the architect of the building. The sunroom will adjoin the ballroom on the south side. Already workmen are engaged in the undertaking.

Drivers Organize—At a meeting of chauffeurs and bus drivers, held in the Trades and Labor Hall, 1316 Broad Street, last night, temporary officers were elected until the next meeting, which will be held on Friday at 8 p.m. in the same hall. The organization has been named the Federal Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Helpers and Bus Drivers. Mr. Samuel Howard, president of the Victoria Trades and Labor Council, and other well-known members in the labor movement were present.

Witnesses Here—Alaska witnesses have arrived in the city for the hearing of the Pinkham Court which next Monday before Mr Justice W. A. Macdonald, K.C., will be gone over the development and sale of the Big Bullion mining claim in the Stewart district. Mr. William Harris, a twenty-six-year-old fire miner, of Port Angeles, plaintiff in the action, is suing for $100,000 from the defendants, who are Mr. Daniel Lindeboryg and the executors of the estate of the late Andrew Lindeborg: James Proudfoot and Hiram Stevenson.

GRAIN MIXING IS DEFENDED

Custom in Best Interest of Farmer, Hon. T. A. Crerar Tells House Committee

OTTAWA, May 10.—Mixing of grain should be continued in the best interests of the farmer, Hon. T. A. Crerar, president of the United Grain Growers Ltd. advised the agriculture and colonization committee of the House of Commons today. He recommended a definite outturn standard and additions to staff of the Board of Grain Commissioners.

J. B. Murray, general manager of the company, contended that complaints by European buyers against the standards the last few years were due largely to the poor milling value of the 1927 crop and the poor results of drying that and the preceding crop.

If mixing were abolished entirely it would be very difficult to market certain grades, Mr. Crerar said. A great number of grades had been forward in the last few years owing to the expensive mixing of the growing wheat. Furthermore, he declared, as soon as the grain was transferred to United States terminals had the grain been sold to European buyers on seaboard certificates.

It would be much better to keep mixing under Canadian supervision, he said, and any criticism because it was claimed mixing brought lower prices. Mr Crerar did not think this applied.

There was no complaint against the 1928 crop.

Although frozen, it was about 1 per cent higher in protein content than the 1927 crop of poor milling quality. A proper outturn standard would prevent misunderstanding, he thought.

He thought the commissioners should be supplied with one or two assistants in each province. Assistants might also be provided at Vancouver and Port William. This would enable farmers' complaints to be dealt with promptly and would remove three-quarters of the trouble.

Blending was not carried out to the extent commonly reported. Mr. Murray contended. Figures showed that out of the entire crop only about 8,500,000 bushels was specially diverted.

Statements that the pools or the companies operating both private and public terminals were sending all the "cream of the grades" to terminal elevators were totally inaccurate, Mr. Murray declared.

Ben Cross, the actor and producer of Shakespearian plays who has visited this country with his company many times, recently celebrated his fiftieth year on the stage. Although he has passed the years of age he has no thoughts of retiring.

U.S. GOLFERS TO USE LIGHTER BALL

Governing Body Decides to Change Weight and Size After January, 1931

NEW YORK, May 10.—American golfers will slug a lighter and larger ball through the fairways of the country after the first day of January, 1931. After five years of exhaustive tests and experiments, the United States Golf Association has announced that the standard golf ball of the future will be not less than 1.62 inches in diameter and 1.55 ounces in weight. The standard ball in use today weighs 1.62 ounces and is 1.62 inches in diameter.

The action of the U.S.G.A. followed close on the refusal of the Royal and Ancient Golf Club of St. Andrews, ruling power in British golf, to tamper with the present ball. The United States governing body had helped that the change might be made simultaneously in two of the principal golfing nations. No decision on a ball to be used in international play will be made until necessary.

GRADS INVITED TO CZECHOSLOVAKIA WOMEN'S SPORTS

EDMONTON, May 10.—Definite decision has been made to hold the next women's Olympic games in Prague, Czechoslovakia, in 1930, according to a cable received today from the Federation Sportive Feminine Internationale, by J. P. Page, branch of the Canadian champion, Edmonton Grads basketball team.

A special invitation from Marie A. Millisat, president of the federation, has been sent to the Grads to compete. Mr. Page stated. The girls from Edmonton were officially awarded the right to title in 1924 and 1928 by the F.S.F.I. after defeating the Canadian champs in a series of games arranged by the Federation officials.

Because the federation failed to secure the inclusion of some athletic events on the mixed Olympic programme, the decision to let Prague states, the federation will continue to stage their own Olympiad.

STRANGLER LEWIS WEDS ART STUDENT

RIVERSIDE, Cal., May 10.—Ed "Strangler" Lewis, former world's champion heavyweight wrestler and Miss Elaine Tomaso, Glendale, Cal., art student, were married here last night. They plan to leave next week on a honeymoon trip to Kansas City and Canada.

Lewis, out of the ring, is Robert H. Frederick. He gave his age as thirty-four and his bride, who is the daughter of Salvatore Tomaso, a composer, gave her age as twenty-five.

SCOTS TO HONOR LIVINGSTONE

Scotch residents of South Africa will erect a memorial to David Livingstone near the scene of his life's work. Present plans call for a life-size statue of the great explorer-missionary on the banks of the Zambesi River, near the Victoria Falls, of which he was the discoverer. The project has been actively taken up by the Caledonian Society of the Union of South Africa and Rhodesia, who have already subscribed more than $10,000 of the $15,000 required. Admirers of Livingstone in Scotland are also becoming enthusiastic over the project and are expected to contribute to the fund.

Women's Activities

Women's Clubs and Societies

Sidney United L.A.

The monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid of the Sidney United Church was held on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Armstrong, East Road. The president occupied the chair and opened the meeting at which there was a good attendance of members, who were pleased to welcome back Mrs. Ellis who has been away for some time through illness. A report was given on the Spring flower show held in the hall last month, which proved most successful both financially and socially. A hearty vote of thanks was passed to those who had worked so hard to make it a success. It was suggested that a strawberry festival be given some time in June but full details and arrangements will be made at a later date. At the close of the business meeting, Mrs. Armstrong served tea, and a social hour was enjoyed, at the conclusion of which Mrs. R. Douglas invited the members to hold next month's meeting at her home on the East Road.

Women's Institutes of Vancouver Island

LANGFORD

Residents of Colwood, Luxton, Happy Valley and Victoria attended the final meeting of the series held by the Women's Institute during the past season. The hall was crowded. The tables, on which the refreshments were served by the social committee, were decorated with bouquets of pink tulips and pots of cineraria. Mrs. Ritchie and Mr. Smith were first prize winners at bridge; Mrs. C. Smith and Mrs. H. C. Bennett (playing gentleman) received the consolation prize. Mrs. J. MacDonald and Mr. C. Campbell were highest scorers at five hundred; Mrs. Tonert and Mrs. D. Welsh (playing gentleman) the low set. Mystery prizes were received by Mrs. L. O. Williamson, Mrs. Longworthy, Mrs. C. Smith and Mrs. H. Parker. Prizes were donated by Messrs. W. Savory and R. Walsh. A smelling contest also proved to be very entertaining. The first prize was given to Mrs. Longworthy; Mrs. H. A. Hincks received the consolation. Mr. J. Stuart Yates proposed a vote of thanks to the social committee for its good work throughout the series.

Fashion Fancies

By Marie Belmont

Here is one of the most striking novelties offered this season—the pantie-blouse of washable silk, to be worn with suits.

It is made in one piece, as a step-in and may be worn with suits or used as a practice play suit at a moments notice. It makes the loose fit smugly, does away with lingerie on hot days and is adjustable at the waist.

TRIO AT CRYSTAL IS MAGNIFICENT

Mr. A. M. D. Fairbairn Presents Fine Drama — Hopes to Revive Little Theatre Movement

Last night Mr. A. M. D. Fairbairn produced in the banquet hall of the Crystal Garden "Madame Pim," a eighteenth century drama which Mr Fairbairn has adapted for the stage from a work of the famous American author, James Branch Cabell, dealing with the period of the Young Pretender in Scotland in 1745.

As Anastasia, Miss Noel Cusack showed her appreciation of the finer lights and shades in the difficult and complex character. She had mastered the subtlety of the woman who subjected her heart to her head with a mercy which prevented her from ruining her performance by attempting to make the character into a "sympathetic part" and she more than merited her share of the applause.

As her master in holy orders Mr Fairbairn had a magnificent chance, and took it in good style. Not that he made of the character a living, breathing personality. It will be a long time before those who saw him last night will forget that shabby black figure lurching about the stage, at one time trying to crush the manhood within him, at another attempting to piece the shattered fragments together.

Mr. Fairbairn was fortunate in his choice of Mr. Eric Chalmers for the part of Lord Rokesdale. This actor is always brilliant upon the stage but few occasions when he is seen upon the stage, had he surpassed himself last night. By turns scheming, domineering, brutal and frankly sensual, he never for an instant overdid the part, and yet he was magnificently sinister throughout. His duel with Mr. Fairbairn was as realistic as it could well be; indeed it was so realistic that Mr. Fairbairn came off the stage bleeding somewhat profusely from a wound in the hand.

The play itself was preceded by lighting sketches and monologues. Mr. Fairbairn proved himself a wizard with a stick of charcoal and a blank sheet of paper. "Jiggs," "Mutt and Jeff," "Ella Cinders" and other denizens of the comic strip imitated themselves under his hand with astonishing rapidity.

Miss Cusack was admirable in the sublime and the ridiculous alike. It would be impossible to judge between her "Mrs. Arris in look" and Alfred Noyes' "Highwayman," just as one cannot compare the best in classical music with the best in jazz. Suffice it to say that her work was excellent in both imagination and technique.

Mr. Chalmers also seasoned his monologue with imitations of a jungle of cap and bells. As the disillusioned Jeff he was intensely but it is in "The Difference," a Brandy Williams monologue, that he is seen at his best and that his wonderful flexibility of voice gets his chance.

Mr. Fairbairn explained from the stage that it was hoped that the performance would be a means of resuscitating the "Little Theatre" movement in Victoria, which was begun through the Red Cross Stock Company by Mr. Reginald Hinks in the days of the war. Judging from the appreciation shown last night it seems as though this desire will be accomplished.

CAPITOL The Capitol Theatre will THEATRE show Clara Bow in her latest fun picture, "My Lady of Whims," for the last time today. Besides being a very entertaining production, it again demonstrates the versatile talents of the screen's most popular star, in a human interest story that is full of "it" and good wholesome fun, that Clara Bow fans always look for in this popular star's pictures. On the stage are Hall and Dempsey, the dancing dandies, the Pingstore Sisters, two well known stage artists, and Wilma Steen, eccentric and acrobatic dancerine. Chris Wade and his orchestra will play as their feature selection, "If I Had You." "Smiling" Jack Medford is the singing and dancing master of ceremonies.

DOMINION THEATRE The screen adaptation of the famous Owen Davis stage success, "The Donovan Affair," at Columbia all-talking production, at the Dominion Theatre for the last times today, with an imposing cast, is a real detective story with a double murder mystery which is solved by the keen work of Detective Killian, played by Jack Holt. This is Holt's first detective role in his long career upon the screen.

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE Final performances of the FBO attraction featuring Olive Borden and Hunter Gordon, are scheduled for today and this evening at the Playhouse Theatre. The story was submitted to McFadden Publications, and awarded the prize as the best contribution of the year. It is now appearing serially in True Story Magazine.

Effective May 13, the afternoon boat to Vancouver will leave Victoria daily at 1.45.

THE STAGE

Royal—Sport Show.

COLUMBIA THEATRE May McAvoy and Alec B. Francis, who were so remarkably cast as daughter and father in "The Lion and the Mouse," are playing similarly in their current roles in "The Terror," Warner Bros.' great mystery production, showing for the last times today at the Columbia Theatre. Louise Fazenda is cast as a spiritualistic medium and Edward Everett Horton as a detective.

COLISEUM THEATRE Ronald Chatterton, one of the imposing list of star players of Broadway, has forsaken the stage for a screen career—temporarily, at least. She appears in "Sins of the Fathers," starring Emil Jannings, as her first production, a Paramount Picture. "Sins of the Fathers," the feature attraction at the Coliseum Theatre, is showing for the last times today.

Leona Lane at Coliseum Monday in Powerful New Role

After less than a year in motion pictures and immediately after signing her first contract with Paramount, Leona Lane, the nineteen-year-old Boston girl, whom studio experts hail as a "find," won a lucky break by being given an important role in the Josef von Sternberg production, "The Case of Lena Smith," which the Coliseum Theatre will present next week. Miss Lane plays the role of Esther Ralston's friend in this unusual story which von Sternberg expects will take its place with his other masterpieces of the screen, "Underworld," "The Last Command," "The Drag Net" and "The Docks of New York."

Her Majesty Holds Court Amid Most Brilliant Scenes

LONDON, May 10 (Canadian Press Cable).—The first Court of the season and the first Court in twenty-nine years over which a Queen of England has presided alone, was held last night. The single golden throne was conspicuous, but the knowledge that the King was fully recovered from his illness, although not yet strong enough to attend such a ceremony, gave the scene an atmosphere of gaiety and joy.

Queen Mary herself in a wonderful gown, the tissue of which changed its sheen with every movement, was the central figure of the brilliant scene in Buckingham Palace. Her Majesty wore over her gown an embroidered overdress in soft pastel brocade shaded to tone with the gown and lined with pastel chiffon tissue. She wore a diamond and pearl diadem and ropes of pearls and diamonds, with the Order of the Garter and family orders glittering on her breast.

PRINCE ATTENDS

The Prince of Wales, in the full-dress uniform of a colonel of the Welsh Guards, attended along with other members of the royal family. The court curtsy was only to Queen Mary and not to her eldest son who, after escorting the Queen to the throne, occupied an ordinary place as a member of the royal circle.

Among those presented to Her Majesty was Miss Helen Wills, the tennis champion.

Canadians will be presented this evening.

LONG HOURS' WAIT

Thanks to daylight saving time and a Summery evening, Londoners by the thousands, especially workaday women folk, enjoyed a spectacle last night possible only a few times in any season. Feminine London stood solidly six to ten deep for two hours and more along the graveled three-quarter-mile sidewalk to the Mall gazing into automobiles containing fair women and brave men going to the court held at Buckingham Palace by the Queen.

The automobiles began to assemble about 6 o'clock. For such early comers a wait of two and a half hours was involved before the palace gates opened. Most of the debutantes and those presenting them were quite willing to endure this, for it enabled them to pass the royal presence early and thus be free to watch the remainder make their curtsies.

UNVEIL PORTRAIT OF ITS FOUNDER

Honor Paid to Memory of Mrs. Clark Murray—Work of Order Praised

OTTAWA, May 10.—The memory of the late Mrs. Clark Murray, founder of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, was honored yesterday in the unveiling of her portrait in the Dominion Archives by His Excellency Viscount Willingdon.

In her vision and patriotism, Mrs. Murray had set an example to all, the Governor-General said. She had conceived a great organization in aid of Empire welfare, and through her energy had lived to see that conception realized.

The purposes of the order were splendid—they included the highest form of patriotism in strengthening the ties of Empire and developing the best type of citizenship.

Mrs. John Stewart, national president of the order, made the presentation.

METROPOLITAN STAR RETIRES FROM OPERA

Madame Florence Easton Sails for Europe and Closes Musical Career

NEW YORK, May 10.—Mme. Florence Easton, prima donna soprano, of the Metropolitan Opera Company, announced last night that upon her departure for Europe on the liner Majestic today, she will have closed her musical career in America. The Canadian singer, who is the wife of Francis Maclennan, tenor, explained she was simply tired out.

"I have worked and worked and can see no let-up, so I have quit for good."

Mme Easton said that she intends to make her home in London, although she has no musical plans there.

Women's Guild Gives Supper for Choir

Members of the Women's Guild of the First United Church, under the convenership of Mrs. J Bunn and Mrs. A. S. Christie, were hostesses Thursday evening when they served a supper in the lower hall at the church, the members of the choir, who won such signal success at the recent Victoria musical festival, being their honored guests. The tables were pretty with artistic floral decorations, and at the conclusion of the supper, short addresses were given by Rev. W G Wilson; Rev. Lewis Gray, the new assistant clergyman who has recently arrived, Mr. C. Fyfe, choir leader; Mr. S. L. Saunders, choir president, and Mrs. A. S. Christie, president of the Woman's Guild.

Dublin had a birth rate of 25.12, the highest in Ireland, last year.

Every New Frigidaire household model is now equipped with the new Cold Control.

One temperature for difficult desserts.
One temperature for a quick supply of ice cubes.
One temperature for everyday refrigeration.
Six freezing speeds under control.

Set this dial at the freezing speed you want

THIS is the Cold Control dial . . . the new and exclusive Frigidaire development. It enables you to regulate the time required to freeze sparkling, full-sized ice cubes . . . and to tap Frigidaire's famous surplus power for the freezing of unusual salads and desserts easily and quickly.

We want you to see this latest development of Frigidaire engineers. We want you to see for yourself just what the Cold Control will do . . . how much it adds to convenient housekeeping . . . how much it increases the service rendered by Frigidaire.

Stop in at our display room this week and see the household Frigidaire models . . . all equipped with the Cold Control.

You'll be surprised to find how low the prices are for every model and that a very small down payment puts Frigidaire in your home immediately.

Stop in and get your free copy of this new recipe book. It shows you how to make scores of delicious frozen delicacies.

—And the McClary will cook the whole meal without watching!

This is the dial that Does the Trick!
Put the whole meal in the oven. Set the dial of the Heat Control at "Whole Meal" and forget it until it's time to take the food from the oven—ready for the table! Cooking on the McClary Gas Range is a marvel of simplicity.

Should gas not be available in your community we will tell you how you can obtain PYROFAX Tank Gas for use in a McClary Gas Range.

THE McClary Oven Heat Control does the trick. It automatically keeps the heat at the degree you want without constant watching.

On the dial of the Control is a cooking chart clearly showing dishes such as cakes, pies, roasts, etc., with temperatures at which they should be cooked. It is wonderfully simple and easy.

See the new McClary models. Handsome grey and white all-enamel finish with a dainty touch of color, green, yellow or blue to harmonize with the present color vogue.

Splendid values; all sizes. Popular prices from $42.00 to $110.00. Send 25c for new Modern Housekeepers' Guide and Cook Book (regular price $1.00) to General Steel Wares Limited, Vancouver.

B.C. Manager of Government Fleet of California Service Freighters Says Tenders Too Low

TO KEEP RUNNING AT A GREAT LOSS

VANCOUVER, May 10.—Definite announcement that the Canadian National Steamships have rejected all tenders for the purchase of the Canadian Coaster, Canadian Rover and Canadian Observer, was made today by B. C. Keeley, local manager.

The ships were offered for sale following discussion in the Federal House of a statement that the California-British Columbia service in which the vessels are engaged, is losing $300,000 per year, due to loss of valuable paper-carrying contracts from Ocean Falls.

Today's information is declared to indicate that the service will be continued, as none of the tenderers offered sums considered to be commensurate with the actual value of the freighters.

Automobile mail service is being established into the interior of Panama.

The time used is Pacific Standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level at low water.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Esquimalt drydock at any tide, add 18.9 feet to the height of high water as given above.

To find the depth of water on the sill at the Songhees drydock add 30 feet to the height of high water as above given.

PALATIAL TRAIN IS AT VANCOUVER

Vehicle Includes Solarium-Lounge for Benefit of Transcontinental Travelers

VANCOUVER, May 10.—Every resident in the city will have the opportunity of witnessing approximately $1,000,000 lying idle at the C.P.R. depot when the de luxe transcanada train will be on exhibition here, commencing at 10 a.m. today.

This train, more like a hotel, has been the subject of favorable comment from scientists down to laymen in Montreal and Winnipeg. Medical men especially took great interest in the solarium lounge, with its health-giving vita glass windows, eliminating the sun glare and allowing the penetrating ultra-violet rays. Eighty thousand dollars is represented by the sleeping-car, while the dining-car is the finishing touch in the luxury of modern comfort. The color scheme of the diner is blue and gold, the chairs are upholstered in blue calfskin, a color that is echoed in the blue of the window shades and the heavy piled Axminster carpets. The tables are made of solid walnut, with wall paneling the same inlaid with marquetry.

Ten similar trains will be used this year for the transcontinental journey, while five others will be used for the run from Vancouver to Chicago, making a total in all of over $15,000,000 for these particular services.

LAFAYETTE TAKES WATER IN FRANCE

According to word received from Penhoet by the Empire Shipping Company, the new 25,000-ton French Line motorship Lafayette was successfully launched Thursday to the cheers of a large crowd of people, blowing of factory whistles and waving of flags.

The Lafayette was christened by Mrs. Maurice Tillier, wife of the managing director of the French Line. Many prominent figures in French political, commercial and maritime circles were in attendance. Forgeot, Minister of Public Work; Andre Homberg, chairman of the French Line Board, and Rene Fould, chairman of the Shipyard Board, made addresses.

This newest addition to the French Line fleet will augment the cabin class service from New York to Havre and will be in service early in 1930.

Manufacturers Will Convene at Halifax

MONTREAL, May 10.—A special train of delegates of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association convention, which is being held this year in Halifax, N.S., June 4-5, will leave Montreal over the Canadian National Railways on June 2, according to Mr. C. K. Howard, manager of the tourist and convention bureau of the National system. On this special train will travel all the delegates from Montreal and Western points, comprising about 150 persons. Delegates from Toronto and points west will come to Montreal in special cars attached to regular trains.

The Toronto and Western Ontario delegates will reach Montreal on the International Limited on the evening of June 2, connecting here with the special train, which will leave shortly after their arrival. The special train will arrive in Halifax on the night of June 3. Returning the party will leave Halifax at one minute after midnight, June 6, and will go by way of Saint John to Fredericton, thence direct to Montreal.

Heavy rains have damaged crops in Brazil this year.

Are you fit?

Youth today! Bubbling over with the joy of living! Finding happiness in outdoor sports! Keeping physically fit in order to get the best out of life! And you! How do you feel? Even though your youth lies in yesterday, is no reason why you should not enjoy health. Not through strenuous exercise; but by means of wisdom in diet and living and the help of ABBEY'S. For ABBEY'S, too, is bubbling health. Its sparkling effervescence is a gentle tonic and corrective for the whole system. It regulates the bowels and prevents bilious attacks. It neutralizes uric acid and acidity of the stomach. It prevents indigestion, backache and headaches. And it is a most efficient aid in purifying the blood and keeping the whole system in a normal, healthy condition. A glass of ABBEY'S in the morning is a pleasant means of acquiring bubbling health.

Take . . .

ABBEY'S

The Morning Health Salt

For half a century ABBEY'S has done its full share in protecting and maintaining the public health. It has brought the comfort and enjoyment of good health to people all over the world: and is generally regarded as the highest type of efficient effervescing saline.

BRAZIL OFFERS EXPORT MARKET

WHEAT FLOUR, MEAT PRODUCTS, DRIED FISH, APPLES AND PEARS NEEDED

Great Market Centres of South American Country Include Rio de Janeiro

Under the title of "Brazil as a Market for Pacific Coast Products," the current issue of Pacific Coast Shipping contains some information interesting to British Columbia exporters.

"While Brazil is primarily an agricultural country, her products are largely of a semi-tropical nature, such as coffee, citrus fruits and cotton," says the article.

"The country is, therefore, dependent upon outside resources for many other products. Its imports of foodstuffs are comprised mainly of wheat flour; certain meat products; fish products, principally dried fish and sardines; dairy products, such as condensed and powdered milk, and butter; biscuits, fresh fruits, particularly apples, pears and grapes.

"The great market centres are Rio de Janeiro and Sao Paulo, one half of the country's population being within a radius of five hundred miles from these two cities. In this section—the centre of the coffee and manufacturing industry—individual purchasing power is higher than the average. Rio de Janeiro is the financial centre as well as the political capital of the Republic. It is important as a port, and so is Santos.

"The combined markets of Rio de Janeiro and Sao Paulo are specially worth cultivating. At the present time, imports of commodities originating on the Pacific Coast into Brazil amount to over $1,000,000 per annum.

HIGH GRADE APPLES

"Although fresh fruit pays no import duty, its retail cost is high and only the better classes have been able to afford to buy it. For this reason, only the best quality of fresh fruits have been imported. The varieties of apples most in demand are Jonathan, Winter Banana, King David and Delicious, while the Beurre d'Anjou pear is preferred. Only extra fancy quality is desired and the sizes customarily received are packed ninety-six to 163 to the box. Besides apples, pears and grapes, the fresh fruits imported, but only in small quantities, are peaches, cherries and plums.

"Most of the dried fruit imported is coming from Southern Europe. The demand is limited, being confined principally to prunes. Considerable quantities of raisins, however, are purchased for the Christmas season.

"As on canned fruit, the import duty on canned vegetables makes importation difficult. However, as in the case of canned peaches, which have a distribution throughout the country, though in limited quantities, canned asparagus and bottled olives are also imported. Some canned sauerkraut has also been received.

"Large quantities of codfish are received from Europe and Newfoundland. It is shipped in salting vessels, and is of the very hard dried variety, the color of which is brown instead of white. It must be hard dried to withstand the climatic conditions to which it is subjected. Sardines from Europe are also imported in considerable quantities.

"Canned salmon is only imported in small quantities because of the high import duty. This duty is twice that on sardines. Canned salmon, as in the case of canned peaches and asparagus, has a similar wide distribution. It is a luxury, however, because of the import duty.

"Some frozen or chilled and smoked fish is also imported. The import duty on chilled and frozen fish is comparatively low. It is worth while noting here that the Brazilian fishing industry is carried on in a very inefficient basis. Consequently the retail cost is very high. Creamed imported canned salmon is frequently served at less cost than local fresh fish.

"Brazil now imports very little lumber. Her own forests supply most of the demand and she exports annually large quantities of Parana pine to Argentina. Exports of her hardwoods are also increasing, most of this going to southern Europe. Import duties on lumber are high. It is possible, however, that some fir and hemlock may be imported, and this is especially true of California redwood due to its resistance to rot and insects, which has resulted in a healthy demand for redwood ties in other sections of South America.

"It should also be possible to introduce manufactured goods from the Pacific Coast whenever prices are in line with those of competing manufacturers. Such products include paint, inks, lead, arsenic, aeroplanes, belting, roofing material, linoleum, plumbing supplies, automobile accessories, doors, etc. In this connection steamship rates from Pacific Coast ports to the East Coast of South America have been placed on a parity with those out of New York with a view to assisting the manufacturer on this Coast to reach out for this business."

VESSELS PASSING

Ss. Charcas left William Head for Vancouver at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Ss. Tyne Maru passed up to Vancouver at 10 30 in the evening and the Union Oil tanker Deroche was due to pass up at 4 30 o'clock this morning, according to Federal Pilots.

King Brothers report the motorship Tacoma due at quarantine for Vancouver at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Death Caused By Hatch Cover Not in Place

VANCOUVER, B.C. May 10.—The coroner's jury which investigated the death of James Russell, boatswain of Ms Lycia, Wednesday night, decided this afternoon he met death as a result of falling through the No. 3 hatch of the vessel while it was berthed at Lapointe pier.

The jury was of the opinion that the hatch cover was not in its proper place at the time of the accident.

New Pilotage Orders to Be Enforced Soon

The following notice with reference to the hire of pilots has been received by Col. A. W. R. Wilby, agent for the Marine Department, from Captain F. T. Saunders, superintendent of pilots for the British Columbia district:

"Shipowners, their agents or masters using the services of pilots are herewith advised that, on and after May 15, 1929, no pilot is to be employed unless he produces credentials bearing my signature.

"(Sgd) CAPT. F. T. SAUNDERS."

AIRPORT AT GRAND FORKS IS OPENED

GRAND FORKS, B.C., May 10.—Grand Forks' airport, the first in the Southern Interior, was dedicated yesterday by Lieutenant-Governor R. R. Bruce. Hundreds of persons attended. Six airplanes took part in the opening and there were parachute jumps and other equally thrilling events. Over 300 took a trip in the air.

Mayor T. A. Lowe and Mayor Herbert Clark, of Trail, took a trip together. Hon. W. A. McKenzie, Minister of Mines, was in attendance, as was S. G. Blaylock, of the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company, of Trail.

At Yarrows Plant

Yarrows finished work on the oil tanker Albertolite on Thursday, after which she left for San Pedro. Her crew's quarters were moved from the bow to a position aft, the bulwarks were altered, the rudder enlarged, a new bridge and wheelhouse installed and she was painted inside and out.

The former whalers Orion and St. Lawrence were released from the marine railway yesterday on the completion of general hull repairs. Frames are being put back on Ss. Errington Court and she is expected to be ready for sea within seven days.

Marine Notes

Armstrong Brothers hauled out the fishing vessel Allenby last evening for cleaning, painting and engine repairs.

Ss. Princess Patricia is at the Victoria Machinery Depot for interior repairs. Ss. Princess Mary is at the plant for engine and deck repairs.

Captain Balcom's fishing vessel, Twilight, was released from the Murdie-Wood Engineering Works on Thursday on completion of general repairs. The fishing vessel S.L. 3015 was placed in the water on the same day.

The whaler Green is at the Point Hope marine railway for cleaning, painting and hull repairs. The tug J.W.P. was released on Thursday.

Mr. B. Gillespie, who has been purser on Ss. Emma Alexander for some time, is to transfer to Ss. H. F. Alexander. His place will be taken by Mr. C. E. Barker, of Ss. Dorothy Alexander.

FURNESS VESSEL HERE WITH CARGO

Pacific President Brings Ninety Tons and Two Passengers From United Kingdom

Delayed by strong tides, the Furness-Pacific motor liner Pacific President arrived at Rithet piers from the United Kingdom at 10 30 o'clock yesterday morning, leaving for Vancouver at 3 45.

For discharge here Captain H. Campbell had ninety tons of liquor, dry goods, windows for the new cathedral, earthenware, vinegar, glassware, telephone cable and plate glass.

Passengers disembarking here were Mr. Charles L. Worsley and Miss Alice D. Worsley. Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Lumsden, Miss Aileen Lutener and Mr. Buchanan and daughter went on to Vancouver.

The President left Manchester with five rabbits for Victoria but arrived here with only four. It developed that one died en route, and whether it was buried at sea or converted into stew Captain Campbell would not divulge.

Radio Bulletin Service Fills Long-Felt Want

The Dominion Government wireless station at Estevan, one of the most powerful on the Pacific Coast, is now broadcasting British news bulletins at 1 o'clock each morning, according to Mr. E. J. Haughton, division superintendent of radiotelegraph services.

This service, which includes daily bulletins of from 350 to 500 words, embraces news furnished by the Canadian Press of special interest to those at sea and has been established by the Dominion Government especially for Canadian and English vessels.

From congratulatory messages received by Mr. Haughton, it is apparent that the bulletins are filling a long-felt want at sea.

New Sleeping Cars For Summer Season

WINNIPEG, May 10.—Modern in every detail are the new sleeping cars which are now in operation on the Canadian National Railways in Western Canada, and which will be in regular service between Chicago, Winnipeg and Vancouver. The first of new equipment to go into service went West to Vancouver on the Continental Limited last night. Two of the cars will be placed on exhibition next week, one at Edmonton and one at Saskatoon.

The cars, which are of all-steel construction, are designed for safety, comfort and beauty. Permanent head boards give the sections a measure of privacy in the daytime which is not enjoyed on the older type of car, and there are eleven heat controls, so that the passengers may have whatever degree of temperature they desire in their berths. The berths, upper and lower, are equipped with spring mattresses. The color scheme of the cars, from lights to carpets and upholstering is new and interesting and at the same time restful.

Robert Creelman, passenger traffic manager of the Canadian National Railways, on his return from opening of the system's new ticket offices, declared that Western Canada faced the largest tourist season of its history. Scores of special parties had made arrangements to go to Jasper National Park, he said, and the Canadian National Steamships would enjoy a large business from Americans going to Prince Rupert and Alaska.

During one of the busiest weeks last year 2,000 passengers arrived and departed at the London air station.

PROTECTION OF CAMERON LAKE TIMBER ASKED

Realtors Support Government's Action in Acquiring Alienated Timber in Strathcona Park

MR. CARMICHAEL MOVES MOTION

Endorsement of the action of the Provincial Government in acquiring the alienated timber in Strathcona Park and advocacy of the preservation of the timber of Cameron Lake were contained in a resolution which was unanimously approved by the Real Estate Board of Victoria, at its meeting yesterday.

The resolution, which was moved by Mr. Alfred Carmichael, and seconded by Mr. P. B. Pemberton, was as follows:

"Whereas, it is the considered opinion of this the Real Estate Board of Victoria, that it is a matter of good business for the Province of British Columbia to preserve the big timber in all provincial parks and on lands bordering or in the vicinity of public highways; therefore be it

"Resolved, that this board notes with gratification that the Provincial Government has now acquired all timber in Strathcona Park which was alienated prior to the establishment of said park; and be it

"Further resolved, that this board would again urge upon the provincial authorities the wisdom of acquiring by purchase or exchange the 2,788 acres of timber owned by the Victoria Lumber & Manufacturing Company, Limited, and known as the Cameron Lake timber; and be it

"Further resolved, that the provincial authorities be asked to make representations to the Canadian Pacific Railway Company so the area of all timber owned by the Esquimalt & Nanaimo Railway Company bordering on the Canadian Highway along the full length of Cameron Lake and the approaches thereto be reserved from sale and dedicated to the enjoyment of the people forever;

"And that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to Hon. F. P. Burden, Provincial Minister of Lands."

A WISE POLICY

Mr. Alfred Carmichael, in sponsoring the resolution, expressed the opinion that it would be a wise policy on the part of the Government, and one that would receive the general endorsement of the province, to see that timber along the highways be reserved for the benefit of visitors and residents, who would learn something of the original character of the forests of the land.

He speaker observed that the Cameron Lake timber was the last surviving prime stand on Vancouver Island, and that the province still has a chance to save the Cameron Lake tract from the logger's axe.

"The people of Vancouver Island should insist on preservation of this timber, and keep agitating until success is obtained," Mr. Carmichael stated.

President Stewart Clark said that "the big timber stands on Vancouver Island are one of our great attractions for tourists. It is important that we preserve these scenic areas."

AGED FATHER OF GORDON NORTHCOTT RELEASED ON BOND

RIVERSIDE, Cal., May 10.—Cyrus D. Northcott, aged father of Gordon Stewart Northcott, was released from jail on $1,000 bail here yesterday, after being held for eight months as a material witness in connection with boy slayings on his Wineville chicken ranch.

Tom A. Northcott, of New York, the man's brother, furnished the money. Young Northcott is in death row at San Quentin penitentiary awaiting the outcome of his appeal from the death sentence he was convicted of murdering three boys. Cyrus Northcott testified against his son. Sanford Clark, Gordon's nephew, who revealed the crimes on the chicken ranch, was confined to the Boys' Industrial School, at Whittier, California.

Military Pomp Marks Funeral Of Gen. Otter

TORONTO, May 10.—With religious simplicity, accompanied by military pomp and ceremony befitting his illustrious military career, General Sir William Dillon Otter, who rose from private to general in nearly seventy years of service to his country, was buried this afternoon in St. James Cemetery here.

All military units in Toronto and veterans of all the campaigns in which General Otter served from the time he became a soldier in 1861, were represented as the funeral procession moved off nearly from the armories. The route to the cemetery from the armories, where the bier and simple service of the Anglican Church was held, was lined with thousands who stood in silence, undisturbed except by the mournful notes of the funeral march and the footsteps of the troops.

The line of march for the procession passed the late deceased's residence, the Alexandra Palace, on University Avenue, where he died last Monday night in his eighty-sixth year.

The body of Sir William, in a plain mahogany casket, wearing his full dress scarlet tunic, his sword lying on top of the Union Jack with the white plumed helmet of a general, lay in state in the armories from Thursday afternoon until a few minutes before the funeral service.

Effective May 12, the afternoon boat to Vancouver will leave Victoria daily at 1 p.m.

TELLS OF MODERN PUBLICITY WORK

Miss Jean Elliott Speaks to Tourist Trade Group at Chamber of Commerce Luncheon

"Have you realized that you sell your country to your customer, who then returns to his home and leaves that country for you to sell again next season? Tourist traffic is rightly designated as an industry, but can you think of any other industry in which the same article can be disposed of over and over again?"

The above aspect of the tourist business in the Pacific Northwest was suggested to the tourist trade group yesterday by Miss Jean Elliott at a luncheon meeting held in the Chamber of Commerce cafe. Miss Elliott, who spoke on modern methods of handling the tourist trade, is publicity director of the New Washington Hotel, Seattle, Mount Baker Lodge, and the Leopold Hotel, Bellingham.

HER TRAINING

Five years ago Miss Elliott went into the Chamber of Commerce Bureau, where she trained for three years, at the end of which time she undertook to establish a travel office in the New Washington Hotel. In order to make a success of this office Miss Elliott made an extensive trip through the Eastern States in order to tell of the advantages of travel in the Northwest. She stopped at twenty-four of the leading cities and established contact with agents, travel bureaus and tour companies.

As she proceeded further Miss Miss Elliott became conscious of an increased difficulty in presenting her subject. In Chicago she found two managers of tour companies neither of whom had been further west than the city from which they undertook to arrange tourist itineraries.

"Upon reaching the Atlantic Coast," said Miss Elliott, "I was appalled at the lack of information, and also of any sort of interest, regarding the part of the continent from which I came, and I set myself to find out the reason for this. I discovered that it was actually cheaper to dollars and cents for a party of tourists from the East to visit Europe than to travel across the continent, the standard of travel being equal in either case."

VIOLATE PRECEDENT

Miss Elliott spoke of the hidebound and antiquated policy of tourist bureaus in mapping out two-week itineraries. Any suggestion that these itineraries might be prolonged by a few days in order to enable tourists to "do" the Northwest Coast thoroughly was looked upon as a violation of precedent.

Miss Elliott returned to Seattle and started preparing a special guide book, setting forth the attractions of the Pacific Northwest, which she sent to the travel agencies of the East. After ten months she again visited these agencies, explaining matters which were still obscure and amplifying the information already supplied. The result was that many of these bureaus made as many as fifteen reservations for the following season at the New Washington Hotel alone.

The speaker was confident that splendid business might be built up from the tour companies of the East which send specially conducted parties, and take all the worrying responsibilities of travel from their clients' shoulders. There were many people, she pointed out, who were still afraid of venturing into the wilds of the West without the protection of an adequate guide. The first tour would prove to them that Victoria, Vancouver and Seattle were civilized communities, and those people would return to the East, many of them with the fixed intention of coming the following year with their families, and all of them spreading enthusiastic reports of the West Coast.

PERSONAL ADVERTISING

This would make for the personal form of advertising engendered by a satisfied customer, than which there is no better form of propaganda.

Miss Elliott was enthusiastic regarding the work of the Tourist Bounders in California, who, she said, had done more than any other organization towards developing our tourist trade.

Mr David Leeming, chairman of the group, joined with Mr Stephen Jones, of the Dominion Hotel, in thanking the speaker. Miss Elliott's work in bringing tourists to Seattle, he said, was bound to have a beneficial effect upon Victoria, since it was unlikely that they would go home without spending some time in this city.

"The largest sum which has been spent on publicity in Victoria for any one year is $38,000," remarked Mr. Leeming, "while Seattle spends $1,000,000 yearly on this form of advertising."

VALUE TO ISLE OF MAN

Mr Leeming cited the example of the start of a publicity campaign in the Isle of Man. Liverpool and Manchester were flooded with travel information, and almost immediately the little island was swamped with gold to an extent that made it necessary to ship the excess bullion off the island and deposit it in the Bank of England.

"So tourists in Victoria spend between five and six million dollars," said Mr. Leeming. "What, he asked, would be the effect if this were withdrawn, or if, on the other hand, it were doubled? He appealed to the citizens to help obtain a larger grant from the city for publicity purposes in the future.

The meeting concluded with the showing of a film illustrating the catching of steelhead, by Mr. George I. Warren, publicity commissioner.

KILLICK SCORES DOUBLE CENTURY

Cambridge Batsman Piles Up 200. Not Out, Against Gloucestershire—S. Africans Beaten

LONDON, May 10—The touring South African cricket team was badly beaten today by Surrey at the Kennington Oval by 125 runs. The visitors were out Surrey, 259 and 202 for nine wickets, declared; South Africa, 111 and 285.

After being behind on the first innings, the champion County of Lancashire won their match with Derbyshire at Derby by seven wickets. Lancashire scored 80 and 175 for three wickets, and Derby 191 and 64.

The match between Glamorganshire and Cambridge University ended in a drawn game at Cambridge University, 344 and 341 for one wicket, declared. Glamorganshire, 339 and 152 for five wickets. The Cambridge second innings was captained by a five-year Blue, Killick, who got 200 not out.

In other matches Gloucestershire won from Essex by 112 runs, and Sussex beat Worcestershire by seven wickets.

CANZONERI WINS UNPOPULAR CALL

Former Champion Awarded Decision Over Jackie Fields—35,000 See Fight At Chicago

CHICAGO, May 10—Before a record-smashing crowd of 35,000, Tony Canzoneri, former world's featherweight champion, today was awarded an unpopular decision over Jackie Fields, present 126-pound titleholder, in their ten-round bout at the Chicago Stadium tonight.

The battle was witnessed by the largest throng that ever saw an indoor boxing show in America. The gross receipts were around $90,000, a record gate for Chicago at popular prices.

The decision did not deprive Fields of his championship as the match was fought above the 126 pound weight limit. The verdict, however, was unanimous, with Eddie Purdy, the referee, agreeing with Harry Collins and Ed Knon, the judges.

Fields scaled 127¾ pounds when they weighed in this afternoon, with Canzoneri tipping the beam at 126 ½ pounds.

DRAW REVISED FOR VICTORIA-SEATTLE MEET

Several Changes Made in Pairings and Times for Intercity Golf Match at Oak Bay Today

JOHNSTONE SHOOTS BRILLIANT ROUND

A revised list of pairings and starting times for the first half of the home-and-home series between the Seattle and Victoria golf clubs to-day announced yesterday by Captain J. V. Perks, secretary of the Oak Bay club.

Several last-minute changes were made in both the line-ups, and it is anticipated that H. M. Bodven, skipper of the visiting squad, has strengthened his team with hopes of gaining an even break away from home.

Ron Stein, lead-off man on the Sound city crew, was on the course yesterday afternoon practising, and hopes to gain revenge for the defeat he suffered last year at the hands of Jack Montgomery, local star left-hander. Lee Steil, who will be Stein's partner in the foursomes, will have his hands full when he tackles Art Martin and Bob Johnston.

Bob Johnstone, veteran professional of the Seattle Golf Club, arrived in town with the team and immediately proceeded to the Colwood course to have a practice round. Bob scored 69 with three birdies and he carried in his system, and from the first hole to the finish was in a battle against Old Man Par on the outgoing route. Johnstone was a little uneasy, but made some great recoveries and reached the turn in 36 four over par. However, the veteran pushed Old Man Par to the deepest bunker on the home nine and finished with a 34, one bogey perfect figures, for a brilliant 73.

REVERSED DRAW

The revised draw and starting times follow:

10:30 a.m.—Ron Stein and Lee Steil vs. J. R. Meison and A. G. Beadle.

9:05—H. A. Flesger and M. M. McEwaine vs. K. C. Allen and Alex. Walker.

9:15—J. H. Ballinger and S. L. Smith vs. A. G. O. Maurer and E. A.-Burton.

9 10—L. C. Calvert and H. M. Bolesna (captain) vs. A. V. Price and Harold Wilson.

10:30—Judge Battle vs. A. N. Cohen.

Retains British Open Title

WALTER Hagen, who won his second successive British Open golf championship yesterday at Muirfield, when he headed the field by six strokes with a score of 292 for the seventy-two-hole grind. Hagen was in eight trips to the Old Country has registered an enviable record, being now the title four times, finishing second another time and tying for third once. His score yesterday was the same which gave him the crown last year.

Frank Patrick May Secure Control of Pittsburgh Team for Chicago

MONTREAL, May 10—The Montreal Star publishes the following in its sports columns today: "If Frank Patrick, Pacific Coast hockey magnate, gets a second Chicago franchise in the National Hockey League at the annual meeting of that body in Toronto tomorrow, it will be the greatest surprise that it will be one that Pittsburgh has been talking of getting rid of. This is hinted in local hockey circles and it seems quite logical. If Pittsburgh removed and Patrick got a second franchise in the Windy City, the league would have to be a lopsided outfit. Therefore either one move would have to be added to make it even or one be removed. Of course, there is a possibility of a city like Philadelphia getting in too, but locally it appears as though Pittsburgh would drop out and sell its club to Patrick."

BOXERS AWAIT SOUND OF GONG FOR BIG BOUT

"Dusty" Miller Will Be Out to Stop Joe Lohman, of Toledo, in Return Mix Tonight

FIRST BATTLE IS CARDED AT 9:15

With eesh of the principals in the pink of condition, the return bout between Joe Lehman, Toledo welterweight, and "Dusty" Miller, colored local fighter, promises to be a thrilling battle. The scene of the mix will be the Tillicum gymnasium, Broad Street.

In order to accommodate the Seattle excursionists, the Central Boxing Club has decided to open the show at 9.15 o'clock instead of 8 45 o'clock.

Despite the fact that Lohman easily outpointed the local flash in their last mix, Miller retains an even-money favorite to cop tonight's affair. There are different reasons for this consensus of opinion, and the greatest of these is possibly the fact that since meeting Lohman here on April 8 Miller has beaten two of the leading heavyweights on the Coast in George Trestle and Jack Ferguson.

On the other hand, Lohman is confident of repeating his previous victory, and although he has been idle since his last bout with Miller he figures he can take him again.

PRELIMINARIES GOOD

The prelims give promise of the fans seeing plenty of action. In the semi-and-big-ones, Johnny McDonald, brother of Hector McDonald, is matched with the clever and shifty Wing Hay, of Port Alberni. The latter is a popular figure in local pugilistic circles, while McDonald knows how to throw the gloves.

Jumbo Davies, local bantamweight, will step four rounds, or less, with Mike Kennedy, Vancouver. Davies' willingness to mix has made him a great favorite with the fans as he always puts up a great fight.

In the opening raiser "Young" McCoy, who recently outpointed A.B. Jennings, is matched with Tim Kelet. McCoy, of the slugging and swing-in type of fighter, is expected to give Kelet plenty of worry.

Horse Scratched

EPSOM, England, May 10—Knight Errory, by Prince Galahad, has been scratched from the Derby by Sir George Noble.

"DUSTY" MILLER

Enjoyed and heavy-hitting local boxer who will meet Joe Lehman, Toledo, in a ten-round return bout at the Tillicum gymnasium tonight.

KID KAPLAN WINS TAME BOUT WITH BILLY WALLACE

NEW YORK, May 10—Louis "Kid" Kaplan, former featherweight champion, overwon his score with Billy Wallace, Cleveland lightweight, by winning the decision in a tame ten-round bout in Madison Square Garden tonight. Wallace won their first battle by a knockout.

The closely-fought main bout, featured by continual clinching, furnished a tame anti-climax to a night of furious fighting. Kaplan, a pushing bull saw in action, stormed at close quarters throughout, his aggressiveness plus a wide lift swing to the head that dropped Wallace for a count of nine in the first round gave Kaplan the verdict by a narrow margin.

Wallace weighed 138 pounds and Kaplan 134.

Jack Berg, a punching fury from England, stormed all over Bruce Flowers, New York negro light-weight, to win a sensational ten-round decision. The pair leaned heavy together at the opening bell and punched furiously, a crowd of 10,000 cheering the milling.

Berg weighed 138 1-4, and Flowers 139. There were no knockdowns.

British Davis Cup Team Makes Promising Start

WARSAW, May 10—Making its first appearance of the season in Davis Cup tennis play, the promising British team today won both of its opening single matches with Poland in straight sets. The encounter is in the second round of European zone play, both countries having drawn first-round byes. H. W. Austin scored impressively over Count Tarnowski, 6-1, 6-1. In the other match G. P. Hughes beat Sialkrow, 7-5, 8-1, 9-1.

DRAW IS OUT FOR COLWOOD TITLE PLAY

Pairings and Starting Times for First Round for Club Championship Released by Secretary

FAVORITES ARE EXPECTED TO WIN

The pairings and starting times for the first round of the Colwood golf club championship to be played today, tomorrow and yesterday, by Secretary Walter Parry, follow:

According to the draw, the medalist, Harold Lineham, will match cards with E. N. Horsey, while the defending champion, Ed. McGoade, will be strutting the course with H. E. Brown as an opponent. Walter Hall, runner-up in the qualifying round, will tee off against Dr. Haynes, and Jack Matson, third place man in the medal round, is drawn against L. D. Rines.

Norman Wallace, the latest sensation to appear on the Northwest golf horizon, will be playing George Strath. Wallace by his past performances on the links is expected to go a long way in quest of the title he is seeking for the first time.

With a great crowd cheering lustily, Hagen received the cup, emblematic of the championship, on a spacious eighteenth green. It was presented by A. W. Robertson-Durham, captain of the Honorable Company of Edinburgh Golfers.

"Harry Vardon has his name on the fine old cup six times, James Braid has won it six times, and I have won it only four times," said Hagen. "They are still up on me, but I'm coming back again.

"We brought two British trophies over from America with us and we lost the first one to your British Ryder Cup team easily. We were well beaten, but we pulled ourselves together and decided to fight all the harder for the championship, and it's lucky enough to win."

MITCHELL OFF PUTTING

British hopes for championship honors were blown away on the putting greens. Mitchell took three putts on three greens in his third round and four on one.

"I was lucky," said Hagen, describing his victory, "but I managed to use a fine putting touch that held all through the thirty-six holes today. At the time I expected sixes, but managed to escape them."

The champion admitted his victory today to his short game.

"I want to see how the wind blows up here," said Hagen, "where the ball will have to travel," he explained at the sixth hole, when his long drive reached a valley and he climbed to a nearby knoll.

T. P. Perkins led the small band of amateurs in scoring, his 312 being one stroke better than the marks of Cyril Tolley and Willie Mackenzie.

The leading scores follow:

Walter Hagen, U.S., 217-75—292.
Johnny Farrell, U.S., 222-75—299.
Leo Diegel, U.S., 224-77—301.

HORNSBY TAKES GREAT SLIDE

Cubs' Slugger Goes Hitless in Five Trips—Gehrig and Ruth Now Lead Big Bats

THE Yankee pair of fence breakers, Lou Gehrig and Babe Ruth, are in complete charge of the "Big Six" standing, after yesterday's games. The hitting fell off a bit all down the line, but the Babe and Lou each got one hit in two official times at bat. Gehrig lost a few points, but held first place, while Ruth's sixth homer of the season put him in second, ahead of Rogers Hornsby, who slumped badly, failing to hit in five attempts. Hornsby dropped to a .329 mark, just ahead of Goslin. The Washington member got but one hit in five tries. Jim Bottomley failed in three attempts, while Paul Waner was successful once out of four.

The standing:

Fascale Runner Cuts Close to an Hour From Customary Time in Derby by Winning Lap

DALLAS, Texas, May 10—John Salm, Passaic, N.J., captured the longest hop in C. C. Pyle's transcontinental "bunion" derby today by running 79.8 miles from Sherman, Texas, to Dallas in 11 22 15. He cut 13 minutes and 15 seconds from the lead of Peter Gavuzzi, England, and regained Gavuzzi's margin, 1 29 45.

Salm set a grueling pace, passing only to eat.

Gavuzzi limped, Italy, who won the 73-mile grind into Muskogee, Okla., Saturday, was the second to drag in 13 04 45. Gavuzzi, leader in elapsed time, was third in 13 14 30.

Preston Soccer Eleven May Not Play in Canada

TORONTO, May 10—The Evening Telegram today says:

Eleven players of the Province of Quebec Football Association, has been informed by Sam Dunsmore the Dominion Football Association secretary, that the Dominion body will not consent to any Old Country Pros visiting Canada until after the Britain tour has completed.

"The promoters of the Preston North End team, which is coming from the Quebec association to bring Preston North End to Montreal for a game on Victoria Day. The English League team will arrive at New York next Tuesday, and as the party will start on the return trip on the St. Mirgantic on June 13, it is now in good for even a faint hope that Preston North End will be permitted to play in Canada. That is, unless the D.F.A. can be urged to consent to the league team meeting the Westmount in Montreal and in Toronto.

MRS. SWEENY WINS NINTH B.C. WOMEN'S GOLF TITLE

Veteran Campaigner Downs Mrs. Paterson In One-Sided Match

Vancouver Ace Defeats Victoria Golf Club Player, 7 and 6, Before Large Gallery—Miss Marion Wilson Dethroned in Close Semi

A veteran of the Pacific Northwest links, with a sterling quarter-century record and sixteen major golf titles, a mark that would be the envy of any golfer, and who first had her name engraved on the priaed British Columbia women's golf trophy in 1909, Mrs. S. C. Sweeny, of Vancouver, captured her ninth British Columbia championship at the Victoria Golf Club yesterday, when she defeated Mrs. Hew Paterson, of Victoria, 7 and 6 in the final eighteen holes. Mrs. Sweeny reached the final after eliminating her townswoman, Mrs. McAllister, 3 up in the morning semi-final, while Mrs. Paterson reached the top of her bracket by defeating the defending champion, Miss Marion Wilson, 1 up.

Played under ideal weather conditions with a large gallery on hand, the final developed into a rout for the Mainland ace. Mrs. Sweeny took six of the outgoing holes to round the turn for home 3 up, and won two of the next three holes to end the match on the twelth green.

It was an "old school" final, and found two veterans pitted against one another. The contrast of the pair was unique, the wonderful physique of Mrs. Sweeny towering over the tiny Mrs. Paterson. It was stamina which won out. Mrs. Paterson, after her eighteen-hole semi in the morning, appeared tired, but Mrs. Sweeny jogged along with a seemingly limitless amount of energy just bursting its bonds.

CHAMP PLAYS STEADILY

The champion's play was strong in all departments, her drives averaging around the two-hundred-yard mark, and her irons and approaching being seldom off line. It was her second shots to the green that helped her pile up such an overwhelming margin of victory. She was straight at all times, and her putting good. Only once did she require more than two putts to a green.

Mrs. Paterson, on the other hand, was erratic and she missed several shots, which proved costly. Her putting was faulty, and a number of holes were lost through her failure to get her approach putts dead.

This pair have met several times. As a matter of fact, twenty years ago, Mrs. Sweeny, then Miss Violet Pooley, and Mrs. Paterson, then Miss Norah Combe, met on the same links as yesterday, with Mrs. Sweeny the victor. The last time they met was at Shaughnessy Heights in 1922, when Mrs. Sweeny again triumphed. It seems that the British Columbia has a spell on Mrs. Paterson, for the lady of oranges in the summer of times she has reached the final should at least have given her one title.

Both finalists have held the Pacific Northwest championship. Mrs. Paterson three times, and Mrs. Sweeny seven times.

Mrs. Sweeny got away to a good start when she won the first hole after Mrs. Paterson had sliced her third shot into the rough. A six was good enough to capture the hole. Mrs. Sweeny found herself on the short second hole with their tee shots, and each needed two to get out, but Mrs. Sweeny required only one putt, and won the hole when Mrs. Paterson's putt stayed on the edge of the cup. The fifth was halved in par five. Mrs. Sweeny, missing a short putt for the hole after being on the apron of the green with her second. The fourth was halved in par fives. Mrs. Sweeny making a splendid recovery after being trapped on her second shot.

A BEAUTIFUL PITCH

A beautiful pitch shot to within six feet of the fifth hole gave Mrs. Sweeny a birdie three, and the champion went three up. Mrs. Paterson half topped her approach but the ball skidded over the bunker and ended its journey near the top of the green. Her putt for the half was just off the mark.

Another beautiful second on the sixth put Mrs. Sweeny four up after Mrs. Paterson had overrun the green with her third and had taken three putts. Mrs. Sweeny had an easy four.

A birdie three on the seventh, after a beautiful drive to the green, gave Mrs. Paterson her first hole, and cut Mrs. Sweeny's lead to three. Mrs. Paterson was beside the cup in two and Mrs. Sweeny conceded the hole after missing a putt for a four.

"Three-putting the short eighth cost Mrs. Paterson the hole, and the new champion again took a four-hole lead. Both were short and trapped on their tee shots, and both made splendid recoveries. Mrs. Sweeny went five up at the ninth, after Mrs. Paterson had hooked her drive to the rough, and had recovered short, while Mrs. Sweeny was carpeted in two. The tenth was halved in par, each taking five. Mrs. Paterson played a beautiful iron on this hole, after her drive had found a divot hole. Mrs. Paterson placed her approach shot into the trap on the eleventh and lost the hole when Mrs. Sweeny went down in a par five. Three-putting the long twelfth cost Mrs. Paterson this hole, and the match, after Mrs. Sweeny was down in six, with a short putt for a par.

The cards were:

Out—

Mrs. Sweeny ..5 4 5 3 3 4 4 4 - 40

Mrs. Paterson ..7 5 5 5 4 7 3 5 3 — 44

In—

Mrs. Sweeny ..3 5 6.

Mrs. Paterson ..5 7 7

MRS. JACKSON WINS

Mrs. Jackson, of Uplands, won the first flight when she defeated Mrs. Wilding, also of Uplands, 2 and 1. The pair put up a hard fight, with the loser clinging to an early lead until the sixteenth, when Mrs. Jackson forged to the front, never to be passed.

The semi-final between Mrs. Paterson and Miss Wilson found the former at the top of her game, and the defending champion off her usual form. Mrs. Paterson was two up at the turn, and dormie three. Miss Wilson captured the sixteenth and seventeenth to enter the final hole needing a win to prolong the match, but could do no better than a half, and had to relinquish her title.

Mrs. Sweeny was also off color in her semi-final with Mrs. McAllister, but managed to come through with a win 3 and 2. Mrs. Sweeny, after missing a short putt for the hole after being on the apron of the green with her second. The fourth was halved in par fives. Mrs. Sweeny 7 and 6. Mrs. C. E. Wilson defeated Mrs. Howell in the fourth flight final, 6 and 5, while Mrs. Barber-Starky captured the fifth flight from Mrs. Leeming, 4 and 3.

Mrs. Hew Paterson won the week's putting competition over nine holes with a score of sixteen.

At the conclusion of the tournament, Harry J. Davis, captain of the Victoria Golf Club, presented the prizes. He spoke briefly on the success of the tournament, and congratulated the successful winners on behalf of the club.

FINAL RESULTS

The final results follow:

Championship semi-finals — Mrs. Paterson defeated Miss Marion Wilson, 1 up; Mrs. Sweeney defeated Mrs. McAllister, 3 up.

The
ROYAL MASTER
A luxury Tire? Yes and No

THE ROYAL MASTER was designed as a super tire — a tire worthy of the finest cars that travel the roads. But results have proved that all types of cars are being equipped with Royal Masters.

Men who are shrewd appraisers-of value are buying these super tires. They are convinced that Royal Masters are a positive economy for any man who drives a car for more than one year.

Taxis are being equipped with Royal Masters — more and more of them every week. That is surely the final proof that these tires do give more economical and trouble-free mileage than any other tire made.

Are Royal Masters, then, luxury tires?

—If you drive your car for one year only, yes.

They are an extravagance. They last too long.

—If you keep a car as long as the average man does—no. One set will see you through.

The Royal Master is the best tire ever made, and it should be, because it was built with deliberate disregard for costs.

It is made oversize — the proper size for real economy.

It has a new tread — double thick. Compounded without regard to cost. Cured by a new slow process.

Extra piles of latex-created web cord make walls that are thick yet highly flexible — a carcass that will resist extraordinary bruises.

TIME TRIAL TO BE HELD MAY 12

Many Cyclists Will Compete in Twenty-Five-Mile Run of Island Road Cycling Club

At the monthly meeting of the Island Road Cycling Club, it was decided that the usual twenty-five-mile course be used for the first time trial of the season on May 12. This year a handicap will be run in connection with the event and two prizes will be awarded to the first and second in the handicap as well as a handicap trophy for the rider who makes fastest time. A number of club members have entered, and all will be endeavoring to beat Pete Tyson's time of 1 hour 14 minutes 16 seconds, which is a record for the course. D. MacEwen, the well-known Vancouver rider now residing in Victoria, has become a member of the club and will undoubtedly take a lot of beating as he has had several seasons' racing experience.

The club runs for this month are as follows:

May 12—Twenty-five-mile time trial, meet 7.30 a.m.

May 19—Belmont, meet 7 p.m.

May 26—Hellihole and Anacortes, meet 6.30 a.m.

May 22 — Hamsterley Lakeside, meet 7 p.m.

June 2—Mill Bay, meet 9 a.m.

May 30—Goldstream, meet 7 p.m.

June 9—Deep Cove, meet 10 a.m.

Meet at Hillside Avenue and Douglas Street. Any cyclist interested in touring or road racing will be welcomed at any of these fixtures.

Seven-Year-Old Boy Has Ticket On Derby Choice

LONDON, May 10.—A seven-year-old boy who "does not understand what it is all about," was envied by thousands last night as the result of a draw yesterday in the Stock Exchange Derby Sweepstakes, which gave him the ticket for the favorite in the classic race.

Jimmy Gibbs, small son of a city contractor, held one of the two tickets for Cruzadoes, the colt of Lord Astor. His mother and father have already arranged for him to sell the ticket as a good price, or to sell at least half of it before the colt has a chance to be beaten in the race on Epsom Downs on June 5.

Hagen Says Putting Greatest Factor In Winning Open Again

Champion for Second Successive Year Declares He Had Right Touch on Greens—Used Low Shots in Mastering Terrific Wind

BY WALTER HAGEN

Winner for (second time) British Open Golf Championship

By Cable Exclusively to The Daily Colonist and the North American Newspaper Alliance, Copyright, 1929, by North American Newspaper Alliance.

MUIRFIELD, Scotland, May 10.—My Story (which the boys in the cartoonist, came up to me after I had won the British Open championship today and said "Look here, Walter, I am not going to do any more cartoons of you. I'm going to get a rubber stamp out and use that.

Well, it was a great day for the United States and for myself. We managed to wiggle in one, two, three (Johnny Farrell, Leo Diegel and Diegel third) so we are feeling much better than we have for a long time.

If never have played under so many different weather conditions as this week at Muirfield. One of the qualifying rounds was so heavy I thought the second day of the tournament proper was the best kind of a Summers day, and the second showed it.

Today was one of the most difficult to play on, with a gale from the west blowing, but some golfs are at a premium, and I played just as well today to be two 76's as I did yesterday to get that 67.

A REAL CHAMPION

As a matter of fact, today's golf, I think, was a real test of our game for the Scottish amateurs. We had the wind blow so hard and was against us at so many holes that it required most careful thinking to outguess it. If there was any one thing that won for me it was my correct estimate of the strength of the wind for nearly every shot I made.

When I arrived at the course this morning I had looked over the greens at conditions. I decided that if I could do two 76's it would be good enough, and that 292 would win. This was the score I made at Sandwich last year.

It was simply impossible to hit the ball into the air today and have any assurance where it would finish. Against the wind a high ball was practically held in the air. There was certainly no distance in it.

I decided to use the ground route whenever possible, for the fairways were very fast and a ball hit close to the ground with a top spin would roll a tremendous distance and avoid the gale.

I played a number of strokes of ordinary mashie and mashie niblick length with much straighter-faced irons at the long fifth, with a terrific following wind. I used the No. 4 iron for my second shot, and the ball was never more than six feet off the ground. It ran as far as it flew, and really it was a simple shot to play.

PLAYED LOW SHOTS

It was fatal to try to hit one in the air with that wind following and have any idea where it would finish. I played the same sort of shot all day, especially at the short thirteenth. I deliberately sneaked up on the one, and although I was trapped twice in front of the green I managed to get a three and a four here. There is no hole where a high shot would have blown with the very narrow target this green affords.

Abe Mitchell took four putts this morning on the green from fifteen feet, and it was an easy thing to do. I got away to a fine start with a four at the first, and right into the teeth of the wind I was far short of the green in two, pitched my third on and holed a twenty-foot putt. This made me feel very good, and all day I had a fine putting touch and was able to get my long approach putts close enough to the hole.

My greatest asset all through this championship was my ability to get the ball into the hole in two from any reasonable distance. For some reason or other I seem to have just the right touch for these British seaside links, which are much faster and much more undulating than most of ours in the United States.

In the United States there are a great many players where the putting is not too difficult, and any fair putter can get down in two. Here it is difficult. The greens are not truly exceedingly fast, but tricky, and it is nothing for a putt which looks as if it would stop close by the hole to run six feet past. There is no safety in banging for a hole. The ball has to be finished gently up to it.

The one, two, three finish of the United States golfers has stunned the British, who were exceedingly hopeful of following up their Ryder Cup victory with a twin in the open championship. But their big men failed them at the crucial time.

MITCHELL OFF PUTTING

Abe Mitchell and Percy Allin did a good job, but he managed to get in ahead of them. Mitchell, one of the world's greatest hitters, had too many three-putt greens. Diegel, who led the field after two rounds, ruined his chances when he took an 81 this morning. Leo had eight three-putt greens, which backs my argument that three greens are much more difficult to putt than ours. Eight three-putt greens by a golfer of Diegel's class are unheard of in an American championship. But that was perfectly possible here.

Farrell was all smiles after finishing second, and he said he no seldom played better golf under such tough conditions. Johnny said he was feeling fit and ready for France and Germany, and for the American Open at the Winged Foot Club in June, when he will defend his title as American Open champion.

It is interesting to note that the first three men in this championship were holders of the British Open of 1926, American Open of 1928 and American Professional and Canadian Open title, the two last belonging to Diegel.

When Leo came plugging up the eighteenth fairway against the gale, one of our boys told him he needed a four on the hole to make it one, two, three for the United States and the Ryder Cup crowd. His drive was sunk in a bunker at the right, and he couldn't get far out. But his third was a beauty, right on the pin all the way ft struck about fifteen feet short of the hole and stayed there, one of the few spots on any of the greens where a pitched ball would not run on. Leo looked this putt over for a long time, and then, before the big gallery, he holed it.

GREENS HIT SCORES

My own finish was not so grand. I missed a shorter putt for four and took a five. The wind was fast, tricky greens were the undoing of many a comission, and I was astounded by the number of very fine players who took eighty or more strokes in one of the two rounds today.

Some of the boys told me the wind nearly blew them off their feet. One was little Joe Jurado, who played good golf all the way in his second round, in the good weather of yesterday, he did 79, and never missed the fairway or the greens. He is a most accurate golfer but he couldn't quite get the putting touch. He three-putted himself out of a chance to win.

Al Espinosa had to leave us tonight in return to Chicago, where he has a new job to tackle, and when our team goes to Manchester Monday we will take Jurado along to make ten men, thus having an all-American group. Joe is tickled with this idea, and he will be with us in America for our Open. He will be popular there.

People were congratulating me long before some of the players had finished, and I was kept busy signing autograph books. But I am happy. One American newspaper man who was with me in 1922, when I played in my first British Open and I had finished somewhere, recalled tonight what I said when he talked with me following my miserable showing then.

"I think I finished about fortieth," I said. "Oh-oh," was what he said. I couldn't get going. They sure must think I'm a bum over here, but I'm coming back."

SPEEDING CROWDS

That was a long time ago, and I am happy and satisfied now. Since 1924 I have had four firsts, one second and a tie for third here. I have certainly played some of the finest golf of my career on the sand dunes of the Old Country, and the great crowds, which have followed me, have been very sportsmanlike and encouraging to me. I really think they have enjoyed it, and we all have had a lot of fun. I hope to have many more years of it.

I tell you frankly, it gave me a big thrill when Harry Vardon, Jimmy Braid, J. H. Taylor and Sandy Herd, grand old timers of the game, came up and shook my hand and said: "Well played, Walter."

I tried not to make any cues here. I did the first two rounds without taking this figure. But this morning, on the fourteenth hole, I took my first six in 131 holes in the British Open. At this hole, against the gale, I was well down the fairway in two, but my third got into the wind and seemed to drop straight down. It left me a long distance from the hole, and I could not quite do it. Although my putt to keep from taking a six rimmed the cup it was so far short the hole that I nearly took a seven.

HIS GREATEST

Of all the pleasant memories of my golfing career, these final tenes forget the lovely May afternoon at Muirfield, when I won my second round in the British Open championship of 1926 I stood down the home fairway needing four and a 67 and the lowest round ever played in this sixty-three-year-old event, and saw my second shot, a full iron, pitch up on the green and the ball bounce up and just touch the flag as it flew by to settle on the green behind the hole within safe putting distance for the 67.

I really feel sorry that only one player can win, but I want to pay tribute to all the other boys who fought so gamely, yet lost, and I know it was a disappointment to them.

I have lost very often myself, as everyone who travels around the world playing golf must do. But I appreciate the way the boys came up and congratulated me both Americans and British.

Golf is a great game, no matter who wins.

BULLS RESUME OFFENSIVE ON N.Y. MARKET

Call Money Drops to Six Per Cent, Goes Begging at That Rate and Is Offered Outside

GENERAL ELECTRIC PROVES FAVORITE

NEW YORK, May 10.—With call money available at 6 per cent for the first time since early April, bullish operations were confidently resumed on the stock market today, centering in the utilities. Total sales approached the 4,000,000-share mark for the first time in a week.

Call money renewed at 10 per cent, but dropped successively to 8 per cent and then to 6 per cent; but even at that rate funds went begging and were offered in the outside market at 5 per cent.

General Electric was a bull favorite, jumping 9 points to a new peak at 268. Chesapeake Corporation was heavily bought, climbing about 7 points to a new high at 94¼. Rails generally gave a fair account of themselves.

Commercial Solvents mounted 15 points to a new top at 367, and American Can forged ahead nearly 7 points. Sparks Withington, Stewart Warner, Timken Roller Bearing, Underwood-Elliott, Vick Chemical, and General Railway Signal, were other issues reaching new high ground. Motor stocks were firm, General Motors and Packard selling up about 2 points and Marmon reaching a new top at 104. Oils were rather quiet save for Atlantic Refining and Barnsdall, which reached new highs. Coppers were quiet. U.S. Steel mounted more than 2 points on the tonnage report.

Among the few soft spots were Standard Milling, By-Products Coke, American Railway Express and Byers, which sagged 2 to 6 points.

Buying 487½, selling 490½

Foreign exchanges were firmer, sterling improving a little, and the German mark holding steady. The discount on the Canadian dollar was reduced to less than half a cent.

Another abrupt drop in call money rates from 10 to 6 per cent had a tonic effect upon the bond market. The revival of bullish confidence stimulated the convertibles particularly into activity at advancing prices.

NEW YORK SUGAR

NEW YORK, May 10.—Raw sugar was quiet early today and as no sales were reported prices were unchanged at 3.58, with both Cuban and duty-frees available at this level in nearby positions. The announcement that refiners would advance to 5 cents for fine granulated at the close tonight failed to create any material demand for refined sugar, and several refiners are accepting orders today at 4.75 for fine granulated, or 15 points below the price of yesterday.

SURPRISED BY GRAIN REPORT

GOVERNMENT FIGURES ARE TWENTY-THREE MILLION UNDER ESTIMATE

All Deliveries Except May Make Further New Lows on Crop—Pressure Easing Up

CHICAGO, May 10.—The Government report, as sometimes happens, gave the trade a surprise, showing 595,000,000 bushels, or 23,000,000 under the average of private estimates on Winter wheat crop, and 4,000,000 less than the figures arrived at by our Mr. Cromwell, which was the lowest of all the private reports.

Under the ordinary conditions, wheat would probably have responded with sustained advance, in view of the fact that the Southwest crop has still to pass its critical stage, but today, with surroundings preponderatingly bearish, an early bulge was short-lived.

Selling quickly followed an early upturn and all deliveries, except May, made further new lows on the crop, weakness in Winnipeg aiding in the depression. Pressure, however, was not as heavy as yesterday, and, when it was relieved, the market came under the influence of the recovery at Liverpool, and with short covering by locals and the East reported taking hold on a fair scale, a good recovery was staged. Foreign buyers came in on the break also, to the extent of between three and three and one-half million bushels yesterday and today, this advice coming just before the close.

News on the crop was somewhat more mixed, but on the whole favorable. Broomhall advised that Winter weather in Europe was revealing the extent of damage there during the severe Winter, with Germany, Rumania and Hungary reporting extensive abandonment, and conditions over the Continent poor, on account of the late season. France was reported buying foreign wheat actively in expectation that import duties would be raised before long. We are disinclined to press sales on further declines.

AUCTION SALE OF LOTS

When you are buying at auction keep within bounds of reason.

If the auctioneer of lots uses every method to sell for all he can, you have the same right to buy for as little as you can.

Auction sales of lots are very important to the growth of communities. Of course the auctioneer wants to get all he can for the property, and of course you want to get the property for as little as you can. But if you have never had experience in buying at auction you should have the aid of someone who is competent and experienced.

No one should ever bid at public auction unless he knows where the bid preceding him comes from. If he does not see the bid he has a legal right to ask where it is. The public is usually carried away by the atmosphere of an auction sale as well as by the oratory, persuasiveness and skill of the auctioneer.

You should remember that when you go to the sale you have gone to buy real estate and not oratory. If you cannot keep from buying oratory you should have someone with you who is cold blooded enough to remain calm, and who will be able to keep you within the bounds of reason.

Whitney Letter

(Branson, Brown & Co., Ltd.)

NEW YORK, May 11.—Whitney, of the Wall Street Financial Service, says. Both the stock market and the money market have now been revealed in their true colors and both disclosed their trend. The stock market is headed up, while the money market is not only headed, but is actually, down, having disclosed by its manner of decline that the rates to which call money had been advanced were purely artificial rates and not rates at which any real business could be done.

Now that the market itself has justified the position which was taken here that Thursday's selling had resulted in the establishment of a so-called double bottom, there is only one thing to do, and that is to take advantage of any week-end selling which may appear today, although I doubt it will—to buy stocks which have been previously recommended here, anticipating that next week will witness the establishment of another new record for the industrials and additional advance in the rail group. In the industrial group, emphasis should be placed on those two groups which you have been advised to concentrate on ever since the March reaction was completed, viz., the public utilities and the oils, and in the latter group to concentrate in particular on the Standard and those issues affiliated with them.

Consolidated Gas has done the expected in establishing a new top. Considering the fact that the stock is exdividend, it has closed at a new top. Once through 120, I expect the stock to gain speed on its advance, so use the range of 110-120 to do whatever additional buying you wish to do in this issue. Electric Power & Light has a gain approximating its record top and, considering the fact that it has some $20 a share to go, you can continue to buy it. In the oil group look for new records in Standard of New Jersey, New Jersey, New York, Standard of California and Pan-American "B."

Texas Gulf Sulphur has both established the bottom of its reaction and resumed its advance. Some hesitancy may be encountered between 83 and 85, but a new record top is in the making and the stock is still cheap. American Foreign Power is meeting with the same quality of buying which took place in Consolidated Gas right after the March break. I recommend that you purchase AFW between 112 and 115, and that you give no thought to its sale until it has recorded a new high record. I continue decidedly bullish on the previously recommended food stocks, such as Corn Products, Postum and Penick & Ford, as well as Marine preferred. Associated Dry Goods, Harvester and National Distillers. In the rail group continue to follow particularly Canadian Pacific, Erie, Missouri Pacific and Allegheny Corporation.

In our two aviation issues, Consolidated Aircraft has already established a new high record and will shortly be established in the fifty's, while Alexander Industries is again established in the twenties, and ready to tackle its old top. Both stocks continue to be recommended for purchase.

WHEAT MARKET SHOWS NERVES

FLUCTUATIONS RAPID AT WINNIPEG, THOUGH WITHIN TWO-CENT RANGE

Better Support Accorded by Locals—Good General Demand From Shippers in Cash Market

(Branson, Brown & Co., Ltd.)

WINNIPEG, May 10.—The wheat market was nervous today, with fluctuations rapid, but holding within a range of 2 cents and mostly higher than the previous close. There was a fair amount of wheat coming out, but the market was receiving better support from locals, while there was scattered buying by seaboard houses and a little buying by Chicago interests.

The market was active during the first half of the day, but turned dull with little going on either way. There was some export business overnight, sales being estimated from 500,000 to 750,000 bushels, which was considered fair owing to the continent being on holiday yesterday. In the cash market there was a good general demand from shippers and terminals for all grades from 3 Northern down at spreads fractionally better. Offerings were just moderate.

There does not appear to be much, if any, improvement in the congestion at Eastern ports, but some wheat is clearing from seaboard and Bradstreets' weekly shipments from North America are placed at 0,439,000 bushels.

The United States Government crop report was construed as slightly bullish, as it indicated a crop of 595,000,000, some 22,000,000 less than the average of the private reports issued last week. However, it confirmed another big crop was in sight. Some good rains were received in Southern and Central Manitoba and in Southern Alberta, but there was very little in Saskatchewan. Weather conditions in Europe are now favorable, but Broomhall states that Germany, Austria and Hungary are reporting considerable abandonment, with the crops backward. Liverpool closed 1 1-8 to 1 1-2 higher.

Coarse Grains' Markets were more or less quiet, steady, but no pressure in evidence. There is inquiry for both oats and barley, but little business is passing due to the lack of lake tonnage and the difficulty of clearing the coarse grains from the head of the lakes. Oats closed 1-8 lower to unchanged; barley unchanged to 1-4 higher, and rye, which followed wheat, closed 1c higher to unchanged.

Spring Three Weeks Behind Time in B.C.

MONTREAL, May 10.—Seeding is well advanced in the prairie provinces and is proceeding satisfactorily under favorable weather conditions, according to the season's first crop report issued by the Bank of Montreal.

In British Columbia Spring is from three to four weeks late, but crop prospects are generally favorable. Due to cold wet weather there is still much seeding and planting to be done in that province. An average acreage of grain is being sown and a good hay crop seems assured there. No serious frost damage to fruit trees has been reported, although indications point to a lighter yield than last year in the Coast Province.

DEMAND

The trend of public demand towards the purchase of common stocks during the last few years has created a situation, making possible the underwriting and distribution of many issues of junior securities, dependent on earnings for their dividend return. Large and small industries throughout Canada and the United States have, and are, utilizing this situation towards the calling in of their bonds and fixed charge obligations, replacing these by the issuance of new and additional offerings of common stock.

While this situation is of benefit to industries in lessening their fixed charges and definite liabilities, which in times of depression have to be met, to the investor who requires permanent protection, during good times and bad, of a definite income and security of principal fund, a close examination of investment values is strongly advised.

We will be pleased to analyze your holdings and to put our services at your disposal.

STOCK PRICES AT VANCOUVER ARE DEPRESSED

Lack of Interest in Eastern Canada Blamed for Trend That Is Generally Lower—Trading Is Fair

IMPROVEMENT IN MINES IS NOTED

VANCOUVER, May 10.—Lack of interest in Eastern Canada had a depressing effect on quoted values on the Stock Exchange today, the price trend generally being lower in both oils and mines.

Alberta Pacific was in good demand and closed 15 cents stronger at $4.90 on the strength of reports of new operations. Home Oil traded all day at $22.50, even unchanged, and Dalhousie worked up 3 cents to close at $5.25. On a fair trade Spooner moved up 25 cents to $3.85, and McDougall Exploration was 10 cents firmer at $6.85. United Oils, selling ex-dividend, closed at $13, while several other issues hardened 1 to 10 points.

Calmont, a heavy trader, lost 20 cents to $5.45; Mayland dropped back 65 cents to $12.25; Southwest Petroleum 25 cents to $7.00. New McDougall, 25 cents to $3.25. The balance of the list ranged from unchanged to 10 cents lower.

In the mines a slight improvement in turnover was noted, but the price trend was lower, George Copper being the only active issue to move up, being 25 cents stronger at $6.50. Golconda was off 10 cents to $1.60; Pend Oreille 35 cents to $5.30, and Premier 10 cents to $1.80.

TORONTO MART IS FEATURELESS

FEW LEADERS IN MINES, HOWEVER, HAVE SUBSTANTIAL GAINS

International Nickel Takes a Spurt—Oils Are Softer With Foothills the Exception

(Stobie, Forlong & Co.)

TORONTO May 10.—With the exception of a few leaders in mines which gained substantially, the market was generally unspectacular again today. There was, however, some improvement over yesterday with call money around 6 per cent. Kirkland Lake was decidedly stronger and traded to substantial net gain for this usually inactive stock. It has been ascertained that best ore is to be found at greater depths at Kirkland Lake and, furthermore, the company is a valuable proposition because of its excellent financial position.

McIntyre had restored support and gained more than a dollar. It is recalled that ore was reported narrowing at this property and that an inspection was to be made. Apparently it looks satisfactory although no official announcement has been forthcoming.

International Nickel also had a spurt, touching $1 higher than the previous close.

Newbec attracted a great deal of attention on reports that it is thought to be nearing excellent mineralization conditions. Stock traded heavily but failed to register any material gain. In the latter part of the session it traded down, losing three points.

Sudbury Basin, Teck Hughes, Falconbridge Nickel and Dome all showed firmness. Amulet, Abana, Big Missouri, Howey and Mandy were a shade off.

Oils appeared softer today, Home, Associated, A.P. Consolidated and Dalhousie showing this tendency. The only exception in this section was Foothills, which gained net 10 points.

Noranda is expected to earn at least $7 a share and possibly as high as $10 a share during the next year. Rival United States copper stocks are selling on the "yard stick" basis of better than ten times their earnings, so Rouyn's big producer possibilities are appreciable. There may be found action for the strengthening report that the big New York copper interests have turned attention once again to the Standard Exchange leader.

Field advice hints that a Noranda exploratory diamond drill hole to around 1,000 feet has hit even more new ore. It was not understood any drilling was being done much below 1,300 feet at present. Ottawa suggests the market swing is due to realization of what Waite Montgomery developments mean to the present company, which holds 82 per cent control. Last month high grade shipments were 5,000 tons, which, if maintained, should return around $800,000 to $1,000,000 profit to Noranda's ledger.

Wright-Hargreaves situation is very confusing to shareholders, but is to be settled very shortly. To cut or not to cut mill production to 350 tons is the problem.

Newbec is flooding the Rouyn wire. Another lense is reported cut on the 125-foot level.

Crosscutting on the first level is understood to show new ore in the face. Nearly 100,000 shares changed hands this morning alone.

Wall Street Journal

(Branson, Brown & Co., Ltd.)

NEW YORK, May 10.—Decline in money rates to 6 per cent was easily the feature of the market and changed an irregular market into a strong one, with many stocks attaining new highs and considerable volume throughout the list. The market gathered speed after money rates dropped, and large blocks of stock changed hands in the leaders.

Consolidated Gas, selling ex-dividend at 75 cents, attained a new high without the dividend, and there was heavy investment and speculative buying of the stock.

Some of the rails came to the fore, notably Erie, which was strong in the late trading. Public utilities were also strong. Safeway Stores responded to the April sales, which were up 108 per cent over April a year ago, and the first four months showed a gain of 94 per cent over the same period last year.

Safeway is the largest grocery chain west of the Mississippi, and plans 1,000 stores in Western Canada.

Wright Aero gained 4 points during the day, largely due to the fact that the stock is selling out of line with both Curtiss and United Aircraft. The company will earn about $10 a share this year, compared with slightly over $7 for United and $8 for Curtiss.

Selling of Montgomery-Ward by people who have large profits and don't like the market situation, was well absorbed.

After a period of some days inertia and heaviness, United States Steel became strong and active with what the street termed good buying coming into the issue.

Oils were strong, with a steadily improving oil situation and strong crude prices and expectations of advance in gasoline.

The small increase in brokers' loans and E. H. H. Simmons' statement, which was favorably regarded in the street, made for a strong opening, with a large accumulation of overnight buying orders. There was also short covering in many stocks.

Tobacco stocks have been quietly accumulated and it is gossip in the street that something may be done toward advancing cigarette prices.

Oil shares advanced on news from Tulsa that producers in Oklahoma had voted unanimously against continuance of restrictions on production in the state beyond May 15, owing to the heavy demand for crude. The Oklahoma Corporation commission's order held production down to 650,000 barrels daily, but present demand for oil is more than sufficient to absorb this amount, with the advent of the heavy gasoline consuming season, prices of the refined product are strong and advances are probable.

News and Comment on Business Supplied by R. P. Clark & Co. (Victoria), Limited

MORNING STOCK LETTER

We would say that Wall Street's apprehension, which seemed to be growing acute yesterday morning, will be somewhat relieved by the small increase in brokers' loans, by the unchanged New York reserve rediscount rate and by the evidence of some relief in the money marekt. A 10 per cent rate is far from easy money, but the appearance of funds after several days of stringency very possibly may definitely indicate the passing of the period when the money supply was practically nil.

Some of the selling yesterday was based upon the theory that the continuance of tight money will inevitably injure business, presumably in the second half of the year. It is a fact, however, that extensive liquidation is not present, but a fresh buying power has been decidedly limited, and we do not expect a material change in this direction in the immediate future. The public utility group, under present market conditions, is as attractive as any of the active groups, and among the more desirable stocks in this section we would list United Corporation, Consolidated Gas, Electric Bond & Share, Columbia Gas & Electric and North American.

WALL STREET MIRROR

The increase in loans to brokers of $16,000,000 about fitted in with expectations. Regardless of this increase, the market should do better today. The continued scarcity of funds in the call loan market is the biggest factor in the situation now. Any easing of money rates will find the market headed upward buoyantly.

The oils find ready buying every time the money situation gives stocks a chance to advance. Excellent buying is still making its appearance in the Standard Oil group and special developments are bringing buying in Barnsdall. One of the factors affecting Barnsdall is the uncovering of a new field in the mid-continent district. The very best buying is still making itself felt in United Corporation, which made its appearance on the Stock Exchange Thursday. A significant fact in the United Corporation report was that the Morgan Holding Company has just purchased a big block of Columbia Gas & Electric. Stay long of United. Electric Power & Light is a member of the utility group which is headed higher.

STOCK MARKET OPINIONS

Hirsch, Lilienthal & Co.—The group that shows up about the best of the lot is the oil group, and we would not be surprised if people who have accumulated the Standard Oil issues, Richfield Oil and stocks of this class would ultimately have an opportunity of selling them considerably higher.

Hornblower & Weeks—We expect developments of the credit situation which will create a very optimistic frame of mind indorsing current speculation.

J. S. Bache & Co.—Temporarily, at least, the paramount issue still remains the credit situation. Until an easier tone develops in call money conditions, it seems unlikely that the broad advance will have its inception.

TRADING ITEMS

We have seen excellent buying in Transcontinental Oil during the past few days and would follow strength in it. On the current move the stock could easily move up to 20.

Studebaker — On earnings and dividend ability, Studebaker is entitled to sell above 100. Once through 96 it would be a bull pointer and should be followed by a quick advance into new high territory.

U.S. Industrial Alcohol—Thus far Alcohol's prices have averaged above 10 per cent above those of last year. The company is doing a larger volume of business, it has curtailed operating expenses and is expected to report a marked increase in earnings for 1929. Alcohol will probably be involved in a large chemical merger this year, and it appears to be in a strong technical position, and we believe that holdings should be maintained in anticipation of at least 200 for the stock before the end of the year.

International Telephone & Telegraph—Official announcement of new rights is expected in the near future and may check the upward trend. While it may be desirable to accept trading profits on any further strength, we would not do so unless plans were made in advance to repurchase the stock on a fair-sized reaction.

CAMP COOK SUICIDE

WINNIPEG, May 10.—As a freight train moved slowly into the station at Cranberry Portage, northern mining town, yesterday, William Matte, twenty-seven-year-old construction camp cook, rushed to the track and placed his head on the rail. Death was instantaneous. A few moments before he had been talking to friends on the station platform but gave no indication that he contemplated suicide. Matte came here some months ago from Quebec, where a brother, a priest, resides.

MARKET TONE IS MUCH IMPROVED

Almost All Representative Issues Open Higher—Oils Are Again Impressive

(Branson, Brown & Co., Ltd.)

NEW YORK, May 10.—The tone of the stock market was greatly improved today. On a heavy accumulation of overnight buying orders, stimulated in a large part by the very favorable overnight news, prices of practically all the representative issues opened from 1c to 3c higher. General Motors, in early dealings, responded to the favorable action taken by directors yesterday by the declaration of a 30c extra together with the regular dividend on the common shares.

The action of the leading automotive issues had a stimulating effect on a number of the other auto stocks, notably Packard, which advanced quite easily. United Corporation, whose shares were listed for trading on the exchange, continued its spectacular upturn and recorded another new high. However, the advance in the latter issue did not overshadow some of the other leading utilities, such as Consolidated Gas, National Power & Light and Electric Power & Light, which all enjoyed good-sized gains.

Interest in the rail group was revived today, and, according to rumors emanating from certain quarters, a decision on the O'Fallon case by the Supreme Court on Monday next would not be a surprising development. A number of the carrier issues were in active demand with Erie, Chesapeake & Ohio the forerunners in this particular group.

Oil shares gave another impressive demonstration and responded in excellent fashion to the numerous recent optimistic reports concerning the petroleum industry. Barnsdall A., Atlantic Refining, and practically all of the standards recorded good advances.

Copper shares in the majority of cases were somewhat heavy. In the afternoon dealings, with call money ruling at 6 per cent, the general list continued to advance with the tone at the close rather strong. It looks as though rates for accommodations may hover around a higher level for a while and in the natural course of events, probably stimulate more activity on the upside of prices. It can be said that sentiment today in local circles was more cheerful than for some time.

SEASON TO OPEN AT NANAIMO

CUMBERLAND, May 10.—The Cumberland cricketers will open their season on Sunday, when they journey to Nanaimo to take on the strong Hub City eleven. "Billy" Burns, last year with Cumberland, is now with Nanaimo, and the latter are reputed to have a very strong team this year, three new players from Chemainus having joined them. They also still have their two strong men in Messrs. V. Eccles and J. Emslie.

The game will start at 11 o'clock Sunday morning. Cumberland to be represented by J. Idiens, J. L. Brown, J. Vernon-Jones, S. Gough, C. Dando, T. Carney, H. Hassell, R. Goodall, H. Taylor, S. Boothman and J. Millburn, with G. I. Guy as reserve.

Shawnigan Pupils Make Presentation

SHAWNIGAN LAKE, May 10.—At the close of the weekly choir practice, the pupils of the Shawnigan Lake School presented to Miss Lonsdale a pair of silver candlesticks. Mr. Heald, the school secretary, expressed in a few words the appreciation and gratitude due Miss Lonsdale for the time and energy that she had been giving to the musical education of the children during the past two years. A choir from Shawnigan had competed at the Victoria Musical Festival in 1928 and 1929, and this year Miss Lonsdale had also conducted choirs from the schools at Sylvania, Mill Bay and Cobble Hill. Two of the schools were without pianos, and it was with the idea of procuring instruments for these that Miss Lonsdale was organizing a concert for May 17 in the S.L.A.A. Hall. There will be supper and dancing after the concert.

Many tourists from all parts of the world visited Jamaica last season.

TWENTY-SECOND ANNUAL REPORT
FOR YEAR ENDING DECEMBER 31st, 1928

To the Shareholders:

Your Directors herewith submit their Twenty-Second Annual Report with Statement of Assets and Liabilities and abstract of Profit and Loss Account for the year ended December 31, 1928.

The Dividend on the Preferred Stock amounting to $35,000.00, being at the rate of 7% per annum, has been paid. The sum of $15,000.00 has been added to Depreciation Reserve, and the cost of all Upkeep and Renewals incurred during the year and amounting to $37,944.64, has been charged to operating expense.

Bond Interest on the First and Consolidated Issues has been paid, which, together with interest accrued for the last quarter of the year, totals $64,642.28, and at the same time the sum of $12,493.71 has been written off Bond Discount Account.

The year's operations, which show a net gain in Profit and Loss Account of $96,498.65, have reflected the general prosperity of the country in a continued improvement in our sales volume; this improvement has not been confined to any particular type of product of our manufacture and has been general and satisfactory in character.

The operations of your Subsidiaries, The Alberta Linseed Oil Company, Limited, and Pacific White Lead Company, Limited, have been profitable and satisfactory.

Messrs. P. S. Ross & Sons, as in the past, have audited the books and accounts and their report is herewith submitted.

Your Directors wish to express their appreciation of the faithful and efficient services of the officers and employees of the Company during the fiscal year.

All of which is respectfully submitted on behalf of the Directors.

GEORGE HENDERSON, President and General Manager.

Sidney Tennis Club Officers Are Elected

SIDNEY, May 10.—The annual meeting of the Sidney Tennis Club was held on Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Prince, Third Street. The election of officers for the coming year resulted in Mr. A. Prince being appointed as president and Mrs. George McLean as secretary.

The meeting was most enthusiastic in arrangements for the coming season, and it was agreed to play on Tuesday and Friday evenings on the wooden tennis court at the Chalet, Deep Cove.

It was proposed that the club try to raise sufficient funds this year to build a tennis court in Sidney next year, and, in order to assist the funds, a military five hundred drive will be held in the Matthew Hall on Thursday evening. A committee was appointed to make the necessary arrangements.

It was also decided to hold a flannel dance in the Deep Cove Social Club Hall on July 13.

Anyone wishing to join the club or help in any way is invited to telephone the secretary at 86L.

District Engineer Comes to View Proposed Site

CUMBERLAND, May 10.—Mr. J. P. Forde, district engineer for the Federal Government, arrived in Cumberland Thursday noon, and was the guest of the Cumberland Board of Trade at luncheon. During the afternoon Mr. Forde, in company with several members of the local board, journeyed to Puntledge Lake, and after a thorough inspection the engineer will tender a report on the possibility of building a stationary wharf at Jock's Point, at the end of the new Government road, which is nearing completion.

ASK CHANGE OF STATION'S NAME

Hon. R. H. Pooley Requests E. & N. Railway Manager to Rename Colwood on That Line

LANGFORD, May 10.—At the request of members of an investigating committee appointed by the Women's Institute, Hon. R. H. Pooley, the member for the district, has interceded with the manager of the Esquimalt & Nanaimo Railway to have the name of Colwood Station on that line changed to Langford, to obviate the existing confusion caused by the fact that Colwood Station is beside Langford Postoffice, while Colwood Postoffice is about two miles away, and freight, parcels, letters, etc., intended for Langford are sent to Colwood Station on the Canadian National Railways in the Colwood district or to Colwood Postoffice.

In response to a tentative promise given by the manager of the E. & N. Railway, a petition has been sent requesting the change, signed by the majority of the ratepayers and residents of the district, many of whom helped in every possible way to further the project.

Information has also been obtained by Mr. Pooley for members of the committee regarding the definite boundary lines of the Langford district, regarding which there had been great differences of opinion. On the Island Highway the Langford section starts at the Colwood Hotel, junction of Highway and Sooke Road and ends at the junction of Miller Road and Malahat Drive.

LECTURES ON PIONEER DAYS

Mr. John Hosie Gives Interesting Address at Sooke to Large Audience

SOOKE, May 11.—The illustrated lecture given Thursday evening at the Belvedere Hotel, under the auspices of the newly formed District Association, drew a large audience. Mr. John Hosie, of the Provincial Archives, confined his address and lantern slides chiefly to the early history of Vancouver Island, dating back to 1790, when the Spaniards came as explorers and built crude log cabins on the then lonely shores of Nootka.

The pictures of the old pioneers, scenes in the once-famous Leechtown and old-time scenes of Sooke recalled tales told by the grandparents of a few of those present, among whom was no less a personage than Mr. John Craig, known as the "Mayor of Leechtown."

The meeting tendered a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. Hosie and his assistant, Mr. Newcombe.

Following the lecture a meeting was held by the District Association, Mr. R. Robillard, president, in the chair. All those present were invited to attend and many new members were added to the list, who have pledged themselves to make Sooke with its numerous advantages one of the most attractive tourist resorts on the Island.

In the recent six-day bicycle race in Paris, the winning team, M. Raynard and Dayen, covered nearly 380 miles a day.

Mining News

(R. E. Hunnings & Co., Ltd.)

CALGARY, May 10.—Home No. 1 flow showing large increase, making 856 barrels in twenty-four hours.

Associated Oil No. 1 in proved area close to Home No. 1, now around 4,700 feet, will be watched closely from now on. Geologists consider this well favorably located.

Remarkable drilling record Southwest Pete maintained by Imperial Oil drillers. Speed in drilling this well compares with anything in the field.

Calmont officials believe biggest part of cleaning job completed on No. 1 well. With New Okalta are speeding up operations. Two big rotary drills now on field and two more coming shortly to start big drilling programme.

Alberta Pacific Consolidated official announced Turner Valley drilling campaign involving ten weeks.

TORONTO, May 10.—McVittie-Graham: Drifting north on Moose Lake property, McVittie-Graham encountered about twelve feet of mineralization, which is believed will make payable ore. Samples brought out to Sudbury assay 4 per cent nickel and 2 per cent copper.

Premier—Vancouver says Stewart news carries new high grade silver find on Silverado, which undoubtedly explains recent advance in price of Premier shares. Three veins encountered.

Big Missouri—Conference on mill power development held at Vancouver by Big Missouri.

A.P. Consolidated—Home dividend of 20 cents per share, payable in June, will increase cash in treasury of A.P.C. $200,000 to $230,000. Holds 150,000 shares Home Oil.

Eastcrest—Eastcrest well now supplying sufficient gas to take care of its future needs for drilling. Well now about 4,000 feet deep with ten-inch casing carried to that depth.

United—Split of United shares ten for one possible after May 6. No new shares have appeared as yet and trading in trustee certificates not meeting with favor.

Newbec—Over long-distance, field man says Newbec continues to improve as additional rounds are taken out of new mineralized zone.

McIntyre—McIntyre shares recovered somewhat after jolt shareholders got when it was made public coming report will show less than million dollars increase in ore reserves. Feeling is that such figures do not speak well for new and enlarged mill, greater earnings and ultimately higher dividends.

Southwest Pete—Gossip going the rounds about Southwest Pete creating many new friends for this popular issue. Owing to small amount of stock in hands of public, even small buying wave is bound to put price of shares up. Generally believe that something important is developing.

Home—Home No. 2 is still drilling out cement. Should be making new hole very shortly. Extraordinary amount of cement used in setting casing in lime at this well for safeguarding purposes.

Southwest Pete—Less than 100,000 shares of Southwest Pete have been offered to the public and the balance of the issued capital is very closely held.

Foothills Oil & Gas—Fast drilling continues at this well, which is near the 3,000-foot mark. Expected drilling will be resumed soon in the lime of No. 2. Due to its location with regard to Okalta No. 1, this well is considered one of the best prospects in Turner Valley.

Freehold—Drilling was resumed this week at No. 1, at the north end of the field. Little drilling has been done at this well during the last month. Location was also selected this week for Freehold No. 2 well in Section No. 20, adjoining the Home wells.

Model—Well down 4,400 feet. Well is attracting more attention; the stock has been active during the last few days.

Madison—Largely as a result of the acquirement of two new leases in Turner Valley, Madison's stock has been active in Calgary recently. The company secured one lease north of United and the second about half a mile east of Dalhousie No. 1. It is planned to drill near United shortly.

Regent—Drilling stopped at Regent No. 1 and well put on production test. New separator is being attached; expect to increase production by 20 per cent. Officials state production of 100 barrels being maintained, but only about 25 per cent recovery possible during recent drilling operations. Regent spudding in No. 2 well next Tuesday. Expect to start No. 3 well within sixty days.

Calmont—Calmont No. 3 well probably will be spudded in within the next ten days. Rotary mill now being erected.

Lowery Pete—Lowery now hauling material to start a well as soon as possible on two separate leases, one well to be drilled on northwest quarter No. 17, adjoining Mayland well on the west; the second to be drilled on the southeast quarter, a short distance from the Mercury well.

British Dominion—Drilling at 4,430 feet. Expect to strike Home sands this week.

Calmont—Calmont officials state twenty-five feet of hole now cleaned and steady progress being made. Believed hole was filled sixty to seventy-five feet, leaving about forty or fifty feet left to be cleaned before steady production could be expected. Considered likely well will clean in next few days.

AUSTRALIAN FOLK ARE VOTING TODAY

BRISBANE, Aus., May 10.—Canadian Press Cable, via Reuter's).—It is generally believed here that that there will be little change in the strength of the parties as a result of the elections for the Legislature of the State of Queensland, being held tomorrow. Labor at present holds a majority under Premier MacCormack, and it is unlikely the Nationalist and Country opposition parties will capture the eight seats necessary for their election to the Government benches, though they are expected to gain one or two constituencies.

PIANO ACCORDION FEATURED DURING DANCE PROGRAMME

One hundred and twenty minutes of dance music will be broadcast over CFCT this evening, for two individual programmes of the last word in syncopation are to be presented. The first will occur during the nightly hour with the Sunset Broadcasters, commencing at 6:15, and will feature the Sunset Sextette. During this hour the piano-accordion will be the star instrument. The second hour of dance music over Victoria's radio station tonight will take place during the regular period, 11 o'clock to midnight, when the Crystal Garden Orchestra will be presented. Lovers of good dance music will appreciate these two offerings of modern jazz.

Balfour's Retirement In Election Indicated

LONDON, May 11.—Lord Balfour's decision to sell his town house, No. 4, Carlton Gardens, is regarded as a token that he will retire from the Government at the general election. He now holds the office of Lord President of the Council. The famous statesman, who will be eighty-one in July, has been seen very little in the House of Parliament, or indeed in London, since last Summer. He spends most of his time just now with his brother, Gerald Balfour, at the latter's home in Surrey. Many years ago Gerald Balfour was a minister of some prominence in the cabinet of his uncle, the late Marquis of Salisbury. It is long now, though, since he took any part in politics or public life of any kind.

The Earl of Balfour's town house in Carlton Gardens has been in his occupancy for nearly sixty years. Situated near the Mall, it occupies part of the site of Carlton House, which was built in 1709 and which fronted St. Alban Street and St. James' Park. When, in 1783 the then Prince of Wales (afterwards George IV) was allowed a separate establishment, Carlton House was assigned as his residence, and he lived there as Prince of Wales, Regent, and King. He was proclaimed King from the steps. Carlton House was pulled down in 1826.

The present place has had political associations extending well over eighty years. Lord Palmerston lived there for many years. It has a Crown lease, and consequently there is no danger of "business invasion" spreading to the property or to the immediately surrounding it.

The house contains fourteen bedrooms, five reception rooms, a ballroom and a library.

There are only six residents in Carlton Gardens, the others being the Duke of Devonshire, Lord Tredegar, Lord Beaulieu, Sir Richard Cooper and A. C. Bossom. It is expected Lord Balfour will live in future mainly at Willingshame, his seat in East Lothian.

Brazil Imports Up

Brazil imports in 1928 were the second highest on record—$[illegible] 000, as against $79,854,000 in 1[illegible] writes A. S. Bleakney, Canadian Trade Commissioner at Rio de Janeiro, in the forthcoming issue of The Commercial Intelligence Journal. Exports were $97,426,[illegible] against an average for the last fi[illegible] years of $95,869,000 and $97,301,[illegible] for the previous year. Of this, coffee accounted for $60,701,000, or 7[illegible] per cent. The stabilization of [illegible] currency, brought about at the [illegible] ginning of 1927, under which [illegible] value of the milreis has been maintained with minor fluctuations [illegible] just below 6d, can only be [illegible] nitely maintained by achieving [illegible] sound balance of international payments. There is some fear of over-production of coffee, as figures have been submitted which indicate the Sao Paulo alone will have a crop of 22,500,000 bags, which, with [illegible] export departures at present period [illegible] ted of 800,000 per month, would [illegible] less than thirty months to export. Before this stock can be cleared up [illegible] two new crops—1930 and 1931—will have accumulated.

CHAPTER XVIII

Lila Smith was getting new ideas too. She had been alone in the luxurious little cabin of the boat to which she had been taken, after she had been hurried from the Tappit home. What kind of boat it was, she did not know, for she had been blindfolded soon after "Mum" Oakes was landed at the Mecca wharf. She was not afraid; her first emotion was one of intense curiosity. Fear never came until the night of the fire.

The cabin was unlike any she had ever seen. Although it was beautifully and completely furnished, there was no porthole. But there was a beautiful bed, a piano, a writing-table, and pictures. A broad, low electric fireplace would provide cheer on chilly evenings.

The only person she saw was the Chinese servant who brought her meals and drew her bath. Nobody had ever waited on her before, so she was finding the experience rather exciting. And she revelled in the luxury of a marble bathtub and a set of beautiful toilette articles.

The ship was moving slowly most of the time. She could hear feet pattering on the deck above, and several times she heard a peculiar rumbling somewhere overhead. She knew that the ship was still in the river for she could hear the sirens blowing, and she had just heard a church clock strike ten.

She heard other things, and once she woke in a fright, thinking that she had heard a woman scream. But she decided that she had been dreaming. For the rest of the night, her first on board, she slept well and woke late to find the Chinese servant arranging a small breakfast-table beside her bed.

After breakfast she wanted to go on deck, but the cabin door, she found, was locked from the outside. She had thought Mrs. Oaks was on board, since it had been "Mum" who took her from her hiding-place, and she wondered whether John Wade would be looking for her.

The arrival of Golly was an event. She liked the little man, although she suspected that he was associated with all kinds of rascality. She was sitting at breakfast when the door opened, and he came in, an amused little smile on his lips. He usually wore a hat that was too small for him, or a cap that covered his ears. He wore a derby now, and it had the appearance of an ill-fitting crown. His gold-rimmed glasses, his little moustache, and the very flashiness of his shabby clothes made him an incongruous figure in this elegant setting. Whether he had been aboard all along, or had just come, she had no idea.

"Why, Mr. Oaks," she exclaimed, rising from her chair.

"Sit down, my dear. I'll have a cup of tea, if you've got one to spare."

It was only then that she noticed that there were two cups on the tray. He took off his hat, put it on the floor, and rubbed a handkerchief over his thin hair.

"What a life this is, eh! As the well-known Socrates says——"

He said something that sounded like gibberish to her. Never did she dream that he was repeating a Greek quotation.

"Comfortable, Lila?"

She hesitated.

"Yes, I'm comfortable, but where are we going, Mr. Oaks?"

He looked over his shoulder, towards the door, and lowered his voice.

"Heaven only knows," he said. "Nobody knows where anybody's going these days. I thought I'd be at the Mecca today—the gods have decided otherwise."

"Is Mrs. Oaks on board?"

He shook his head.

"She couldn't come," he said. "She's got a lot of business to attend to—what a woman, Lila! His little blue eyes were watching her. "What a lady! What a helpmate!"

Again he said something in a language that she did not understand.

"You'll be all right, Lila." He leaned over and patted her hand comfortingly. "Don't you worry. Nothing's coming to you but luxury and happiness. Jools, diamonds, carriages and motor-cars—everything the heart can desire."

She stared at him in astonishment.

"When, Mr. Oaks?"

He tapped the side of his nose, cunningly.

"In good time, my dear. In good time."

He looked around the little cabin with a certain air of pride. She thought he might feel a little uncomfortable in these beautiful surroundings, but his attitude was as most that of all owner.

"That's a Tintoretto," he said, pointing to a painting. "In what I call his second style. He must have been getting a bit long in the tooth when he painted that. A lot of these so-called Tintoretto are pupils' work. That black and white thing over there behind the planner is by Sassoferrato. Had other pictures it Bellini—not much of a one, but he wasn't what I call in the front rank. Personally, I'm all for the Venetian school. You can have your Florentine."

She listened open-mouthed. This little man, whom she had regarded as a nobody, who had, so far as she was aware, no interest outside his daily newspaper and his pipe, was amazing her with his store of knowledge.

"Benvenuto, he was the man for my money," Golly went on. "Ever read his book? Ought! I've got one sides over that book. But not a painter—sculpt! Ever seen the Medusa? I went to Florence once and had a look at the model. And there's a couple of salt cellars he made for King What's-His-Name, of France. And a dish arrangement in the Louvre."

He looked at the pictures again and nodded.

"There's nothing better than them in England," he said.

"Why, Mr. Oaks, I didn't know you were such an authority on art," she said, half-smiling.

He grinned complacently.

"I know a bit, but mum's always been my obby. Ever heard Tetrazini and a canary singing together? I have! I don't suppose anybody else ever heard it. I'm supposed to have a voice like Caruso's."

He made this claim without a smile.

"I—I've never heard you sing, Mr. Oaks—" she began, striving to be polite.

"Uncle Golly," he corrected. "What's all this 'Mr. Oaks' about? Yes, you have heard me sing." He looked at her wistfully. "Haven't you?"

She shook her head, hoping he'd drop the subject. She had heard him at the Mecca and had always closed her windows to shut out the dreadful sound.

"What about the aria from Pagliacci? Do you know that one?" She shook her head again, not daring to speak. To her amazement, he walked across to the little piano, sat down, and began to play.

Was she dreaming. He was playing like a master. And then he began to sing.

He had the most extraordinary falsetto voice she had ever heard. Hitherto, distance had robbed it of some of its awfulness, but now, close at hand, the howl and squeak of it were almost inappropriate.

He sang in Italian, swaying to and fro, his head thrown back his eyes closed. His tones were both shrill and harsh; the discords were overpowering. If only she dared put her hands over her ears! After what seemed an eternity, he stopped, and, turning around, beamed upon her.

"Well, did you like it?"

"Marvelous," she gasped. "—I didn't know—you could sing so beautifully."

To her intense relief, he closed the cover of the piano. With his hands in his pockets, he strutted about the little room.

"Pve people do," he said; "very few people."

Was he mad, or did he really believe that this fearful caricature bore the remotest relationship to singing? She was asking herself.

He answered the question instantly, as quickly as if she had put her thoughts into words.

"I don't sing in the modern style. I suffick," he declared. "People who've got no taste and judgment don't like me as much as they like some of the singers. But in ten years time my voice will be the kind that will be all the go."

She hastened to change the subject by asking him whether he knew the name of the boat.

"The Pilfrim," he answered promptly. "She was an Indian ship. The captain bought her for a song—one of the fastest small boats in the world."

"Where are we now, Mr. Oaks?"

"Uncle Golly," he admonished her reproachfully. "Where are we now?"

He looked at his watch with an air of great deliberation. "Off Gravesend, or maybe nor so far down. We're waiting for the pilot."

For the first time her nerve began to fail her.

ANSWER TO YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE

BUTTER EXPERTS WILL VIE WITH EACH OTHER HERE

Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia have entered into a keen contest for honors in butter production which will have its climax at the Victoria Fall Fair, opening at the Willows, August 19. Mr. W. H. Mearns, secretary of the Provincial Exhibition announces.

The competition started this month, and will last through June, July and August, the competitors sending their entries to Victoria for points for flavor, quality and pack to be awarded each month. Total marks are then compiled with the final award and exhibits made during show week.

An assurance of an entry that will equal last year's record, the granting of special rates by railway companies during Victoria show week, and the growing importance of the fair have led Mr. Mearns to book outstanding attractions for year on greater lines than ever brought to the city before.

Miss Louisa McLean, of London, has a hot-cross bun which she says is 130 years old, having been handed down for generations and which she plans to dispose of in her will.

SALIENT POINTS OF THE SIDEBOD

Auction: South, holding a semi-two-suiter, Spades and Clubs, and a singleton Hearts, quite correctly takes out his partner's Third Hand No Trump bid with his four-card Major suit. North holding but two Spades and apparently two stoppers in the three other suits, bids two No Trumps. South now bids three Clubs to show his partner the two-suited or semi-two-suited character of his holding leaving his partner to decide as to the best bid for game between the contested hands. North's decision perforce is that there exists a strong probability of game at Clubs, so he leaves the bid in.

Contract: As stated in yesterday's article the requirements for an original bid of two No Trumps, whether by Dealer, Second, Third or Fourth Hand are (a) at least four Quick Tricks (b) All four suits stopped: (c) three of the four suits doubly stopped. It was also there stated that while two No Trump bids are not justified when lacking either (a) or (b) they may sometimes be made though lacking (c). North's hand while it answers requirements (b) and (c) does not answer one of the two prime requirements, namely (a). Therefore lacking four Quick Tricks, North bids but one No Trump to start with instead of two.

Following North's bid, the subsequent procedure would be the same as in Auction, except that after South's bid of three Clubs, North must make the game bid of five.

It might be suggested that following South's first take-out with Spades, North, holding double stoppers in the three other suits, should bid three No Trumps instead of two. To do so however, would be unjustifiably to assume that South's Spade take-out was made with a suit, or suits, in hand particularly adjusted to a No Trump bid, an assumption which may or may not be true. To determine this, North's correct procedure is to bid two No Trumps, a quite sufficient bid to deny adequate support for the probably weak Spade take-out (South having passed originally), and to invite South to bid three No Trumps only if the strength and character of his hand should warrant the acceptance of this declaration as being the best bid of the combined hands. The whole strategy of this bidding from first to last was clearly directed toward arriving at the best bid for game. For example, had North bid two No Trumps originally, South would not have embarked upon showing the semi-two-suited character of his hand, but would have bid three No Trumps. Also, had North jumped to three No Trumps following South's take-out, South would in all probability have allowed the bid to stand. The fact that three No Trumps cannot be made against perfect defense should be obvious whereas five odd in Clubs was easily made.

THE PLAY

West opens with a trump, leading the Ace Queen Jack by a small Club, because a trump opening usually offers the best defense against a two-suited hand when the partner of the two-suit bidder has denied one suit and accepted the other, the manifest purpose of this opening being to prevent if possible the establishment of the two-suit bidder of the denied suit by means of the trumps in Dummy. Declarer winning the second trick with Dummy's eight of Clubs, enters his own Hand with a Spade and takes the Heart finesse, though holding but one Heart, on the assumption that the Ace must be with East, since West who has already shown the Ace of Clubs, would probably have made an original bid had he also held the Ace of Hearts. East is with the Ace of Hearts leads a Spade which Declarer wins with Dummy's King. Declarer discards a Diamond on Dummy's King of Hearts, takes Dummy's two good Diamond tricks and then completely cross-ruffs the hand, winning the rest of the tricks.

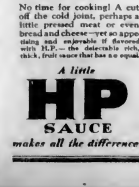
Life Is Like This

By J. R. Stirling

Hundreds of appetizing things to eat—and one boy—and one nickel. Just off-hand it doesn't seem a happy combination. But perhaps it's better so!

Effective May 12, the afternoon boat to Vancouver will leave Victoria daily at 1:45.



The Hurried Meal

No time for cooking! A cut off the cold joint, perhaps a little pressed meat or cheese bread and cheese—yet so appetizing and enjoyable if flavored with H.P.—the delectable rich, thick, fruit sauce that has no equal.

A little HP SAUCE makes all the difference.
